 Referred to Committee for Courts of Justice

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:1. That § 8.01-229 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

§ 8.01-229. Suspension or tolling of statute of limitations; effect of disabilities; death; injunction; prevention of service by defendant; dismissal, nonsuit or abatement; devise for payment of debts; new promises; debts proved in creditors' suits.

A. Disabilities which toll the statute of limitations. - Except as otherwise specifically provided in §§ 8.01-237, 8.01-241, 8.01-242, 8.01-243, 8.01-243.1 and other provisions of this Code,

1. If a person entitled to bring any action is at the time the cause of action accrues an infant, except if such infant has been emancipated pursuant to Article 15 (§ 16.1-331 et seq.) of Chapter 11 of Title 16.1, or incapacitated, such person may bring it within the prescribed limitation period after such disability is removed; or

2. After a cause of action accrues,

a. If an infant becomes entitled to bring such action, the time during which he is within the age of minority shall not be counted as any part of the period within which the action must be brought except as to any such period during which the infant has been judicially declared emancipated; or

b. If a person entitled to bring such action becomes incapacitated, the time during which he is incapacitated shall not be computed as any part of the period within which the action must be brought, except where a conservator, guardian or committee is appointed for such person in which case an action may be commenced by such conservator, committee or guardian before the expiration of the applicable period of limitation or within one year after his qualification as such, whichever occurs later.

For the purposes of subdivisions 1 and 2 of this subsection, a person shall be deemed incapacitated if he is so adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction, or if it shall otherwise appear to the court or jury determining the issue that such person is or was incapacitated within the prescribed limitation period.

3. If a convict is or becomes entitled to bring an action against his committee, the time during which he is incarcerated shall not be counted as any part of the period within which the action must be brought.

B. Effect of death of a party. - The death of a person entitled to bring an action or of a person against whom an action may be brought shall toll the statute of limitations as follows:

1. Death of person entitled to bring a personal action. - If a person entitled to bring a personal action dies with no such action pending before the expiration of the limitation period for commencement thereof, then an action may be commenced by the decedent's personal representative before the expiration of the limitation period including the limitation period as provided by subdivision E 3 or within one year after his qualification as personal representative, whichever occurs later.

2. Death of person against whom personal action may be brought. - a. If a person against whom a personal action may be brought dies before the commencement of such action and before the expiration of the limitation period for commencement thereof then a claim may be filed against the decedent's estate or an action may be commenced against the decedent's personal representative before the expiration of the applicable limitation period or within one year after the qualification of such personal representative, whichever occurs later.

b. If a person against whom a personal action may be brought dies before suit papers naming such person as defendant have been filed with the court, then such suit papers may be amended to substitute the decedent's personal representative as party defendant before the expiration of the applicable limitation period or within two years after the date such suit papers were filed with the court, whichever occurs later, and such suit papers shall be taken as properly filed.

3. Effect of death on actions for recovery of realty, or a proceeding for enforcement of certain liens relating to realty. - Upon the death of any person in whose favor or against whom an action for recovery of realty, or a proceeding for enforcement of certain liens relating to realty, may be brought, such right of action shall accrue to or against his successors in interest as provided in Article 2 (§ 8.01-236 et seq.) of this chapter.

4. Accrual of a personal cause of action against the estate of any person subsequent to such person's

60 death. - If a personal cause of action against a decedent accrues subsequent to his death, an action may 61 be brought against the decedent's personal representative or a claim thereon may be filed against the 62 estate of such decedent before the expiration of the applicable limitation period or within two years after 63 the qualification of the decedent's personal representative, whichever occurs later.

64 5. Accrual of a personal cause of action in favor of decedent. - If a person dies before a personal 65 cause of action which survives would have accrued to him, if he had continued to live, then an action
66 may be commenced by such decedent's personal representative before the expiration of the applicable
67 limitation period or within one year after the qualification of such personal representative, whichever 68 occurs later.

69 6. Delayed qualification of personal representative. - If there is an interval of more than two years
70 between the death of any person in whose favor or against whom a cause of action has accrued or shall 71 subsequently accrue and the qualification of such person's personal representative, such personal 72 representative shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be deemed to have qualified on the last day of such 73 two-year period.

74 C. Suspension during injunctions. - When the commencement of any action is stayed by injunction, 75 the time of the continuance of the injunction shall not be computed as any part of the period within 76 which the action must be brought.

77 D. Obstruction of filing by defendant. - When the filing of an action is obstructed by a defendant's 78 (i) filing a petition in bankruptcy or filing a petition for an extension or arrangement under the United 79 States Bankruptcy Act or (ii) using any other direct or indirect means to obstruct the filing of an action, 80 then the time that such obstruction has continued shall not be counted as any part of the period within 81 which the action must be brought.

82 E. Dismissal, abatement, or nonsuit

83 1. Except as provided in subdivision 3 of this subsection, if any action is commenced within the 84 prescribed limitation period and for any cause abates or is dismissed without determining the merits, the 85 time such action is pending shall not be computed as part of the period within which such action may 86 be brought, and another action may be brought within the remaining period.

87 2. If a judgment or decree is rendered for the plaintiff in any action commenced within the 88 prescribed limitation period and such judgment or decree is arrested or reversed upon a ground which 89 does not preclude a new action for the same cause, or if there is occasion to bring a new action by 90 reason of the loss or destruction of any of the papers or records in a former action which was 91 commenced within the prescribed limitation period, then a new action may be brought within one year 92 after such arrest or reversal or such loss or destruction, but not after.

93 3. If a plaintiff suffers a voluntary nonsuit as prescribed in § 8.01-380, the statute of limitations with 94 respect to such action shall be tolled by the commencement of the nonsuited action, and the plaintiff
95 may recommence his action within six months from the date of the order entered by the court, or within 96 the original period of limitation, or within the limitation period as provided by subdivision B 1, 97 whichever period is longer. This tolling provision shall apply irrespective of whether the action is 98 originally filed in a federal or a state court and recommenced in any other court, and shall apply to all
99 actions irrespective of whether they arise under common law or statute.

100 F. Effect of devise for payment of debts. - No provision in the will of any testator devising his real 101 estate, or any part thereof, subject to the payment of his debts or charging the same therewith, or 102 containing any other provision for the payment of debts, shall prevent this chapter from operating 103 against such debts, unless it plainly appears to be the testator's intent that it shall not so operate.

104 G. Effect of new promise in writing

105 1. If any person against whom a right of action has accrued on any contract, other than a judgment
106 or recognizance, promises, by writing signed by him or his agent, payment of money on such contract, 107 the person to whom the right has accrued may maintain an action for the money so promised, within 108 such number of years after such promise as it might be maintained if such promise were the original 109 cause of action. An acknowledgment in writing, from which a promise of payment may be implied, 110 shall be deemed to be such promise within the meaning of this subsection.

111 2. The plaintiff may sue on the new promise described in subdivision 1 of this subsection or on the 112 original cause of action, except that when the new promise is of such a nature as to merge the original 113 cause of action then the action shall be only on the new promise.

114 H. Suspension of limitations in creditors' suits. - When an action is commenced as a general 115 creditors' action, or as a general lien creditors' action, or as an action to enforce a mechanics' lien, the 116 running of the statute of limitations shall be suspended as to debts provable in such action from the 117 commencement of the action, provided they are brought in before the commissioner in chancery under 118 the first reference for an account of debts; but as to claims not so brought in the statute shall continue 119 to run, without interruption by reason either of the commencement of the action or of the order for an 120 account, until a later order for an account, under which they do come in, or they are asserted by petition 121 or independent action.

122 In actions not instituted originally either as general creditors' actions, or as general lien creditors'
123 actions, but which become such by subsequent proceedings, the statute of limitations shall be suspended 124 by an order of reference for an account of debts or of liens only as to those creditors who come in and 125 prove their claims under the order. As to creditors who come in afterwards by petition or under an order 126 of recommitment, or a later order of reference for an account, the statute shall continue to run without 127 interruption by reason of previous orders until filing of the petition, or until the date of the reference 128 under which they prove their claims, as the case may be.

129 I. When an action is commenced within a period of thirty days prior to the expiration of the 130 limitation period for commencement thereof and the defending party or parties desire to institute an 131 action as third-party plaintiff against one or more persons not party to the original action, the running of 132 the period of limitation against such action shall be suspended as to such new party for a period of sixty 133 days from the expiration of the applicable limitation period.

134 J. Suspension during criminal proceedings. - In any personal action, when a criminal prosecution
135 lies against the defendant in the civil action, the time such prosecution is pending shall not be computed
136 as part of the period within which such civil action may be brought. When the relevant criminal action
137 is terminated, the civil action may be brought within the remaining period of the statute or within one
138 year, whichever is longer. However, no such action may be brought more than five years after the date 139 of the crime.
