SENATE BILL NO. 221

AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE

(Proposed by the Senate Committee on Finance on January 29, 2002)

(Patron Prior to Substitute—Senator Stolle)

A BILL to amend and reenact §§ 18.2-187.1, 18.2-190.1 through 18.2-190.4 of the Code of Virginia and to amend the Code of Virginia by adding in Article 5.1 of Chapter 6 of Title 18.2 sections numbered 18.2-190.5 through 18.2-190.8, relating to offenses involving telecommunication devices; penalty.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

That §§ 18.2-187.1, 18.2-190.1 through 18.2-190.4 of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted, and that the Code of Virginia is amended by adding in Article 5.1 of Chapter 6 of Title 18.2 sections numbered 18.2-190.5 through 18.2-190.8 as follows:

§ 18.2-187.1. Obtaining or attempting to obtain oil, electric, gas, water, telephone, telegraph; cable television or telecommunication service without payment; penalty; civil liability.

A. It shall be unlawful for any person knowingly, with the intent to defraud, to obtain or attempt to obtain, for himself or for another, oil, electric, gas, water, telephone, telegraph or cable television or telecommunication service by the use of any false information, or in any case where such service has been disconnected by the supplier and notice of disconnection has been given.

B. It shall be unlawful for any person to obtain or attempt to obtain oil, electric, gas, water, telephone, telegraph, or cable television or telecommunication service by the use of any scheme, device, means or method, or by a false application for service with intent to avoid payment of lawful charges therefor.

B1. It shall be unlawful for any person to obtain, or attempt to obtain, telecommunication service as defined in § 18.2-190.1 by the use of an unlawful telecommunication device as defined in § 18.2-190.1.

C. The word "notice" as used in subsection A hereof shall be notice given in writing to the person to whom the service was assigned. The sending of a notice in writing by registered or certified mail in the United States mail, duly stamped and addressed to such person at his last known address, requiring delivery to the addressee only with return receipt requested, and the actual signing of the receipt for said such mail by the addressee, shall be prima facie evidence that such notice was duly received.

D. Any person who violates any provisions of this section, if the value of service, credit or benefit procured is $200 or more, shall be guilty of a Class 6 felony; or if the value is less than $200, shall be guilty of a Class 1 misdemeanor. In addition, the court may order restitution for the value of the services unlawfully used and for all costs. Such costs shall be limited to actual expenses, including the base wages of employees acting as witnesses for the Commonwealth, and suit costs. However, the total amount of allowable costs granted hereunder shall not exceed $250, excluding the value of the service.

E. Any party providing oil, electric, gas, water, telephone, telegraph, cable television or telecommunication service who is aggrieved by a violation of this section may, in a civil proceeding in any court of competent jurisdiction, obtain appropriate civil relief, including preliminary and final injunctions, other equitable or declaratory relief and compensatory damages. A service provider prevailing in such proceeding shall also be entitled to recover from the defendant, upon application to the court, costs of suit, and attorney's fees. Compensatory damages awarded by a court pursuant to this section shall be computed in accordance with either of the following provisions, which may be elected by the service provider at any time before final judgment is entered:

1. The service provider may recover the actual damages suffered as a result of the violation and any profits of the violator attributable to the violation that are not taken into account in computing actual damages. In determining actual damages, the court shall consider the value of all services obtained unlawfully by the violator, and where the use of an unlawful telecommunication device is involved, the value of all services available to the violator including the value of monthly services and all pay-for-view services offered during the relevant time period. In determining the violator's profits, the party aggrieved shall be required to prove only the violator's gross revenue, and the violator shall be required to prove his deductible expenses and the elements of profit attributable to factors other than the violation; or

2. The party aggrieved may recover an award of statutory damages for each violation involved in the action, in a sum of not less than $250 or more than $10,000. In cases involving the use of an unlawful telecommunication device, each device shall be considered a separate violation. In any case in which the court finds that the violation was committed willfully and for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain, the court in its discretion may increase the award of damages, whether actual or statutory, as set forth above, by an amount not more than $50,000 for the use of each unlawful

§ 18.2-190.6. Restitution.

The court may, in addition to any other sentence authorized by law, require a person convicted of violating §§ 18.2-190.3 or 18.2-190.4 to make restitution in the manner provided in § 19.2-305.1.

§ 18.2-190.7. Forfeiture of unlawful telecommunication devices.

Any unlawful telecommunication device possessed, manufactured or sold in violation of §§ 18.2-190.2, 18.2-190.3 or 18.2-190.4 may be seized and forfeited to the Commonwealth, and turned over to the circuit court in the city or county in which it was seized and such property shall be disposed of as provided by law.

§ 18.2-190.8. Civil relief; damages.

A. Any telecommunication service provider aggrieved by a violation of this article may, in a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction, seek both equitable relief and an award of damages.

B. A telecommunication service provider aggrieved by a violation of this article may seek appropriate equitable relief, including preliminary and final injunctions, pretrial impoundment of any unlawful telecommunication devices, and post-verdict remedial modification or destruction of any impounded unlawful telecommunication devices.

C. A telecommunication service provider aggrieved by a violation of this article may, in a civil action in a court of competent jurisdiction, seek an award of damages. Upon election by the aggrieved telecommunication service provider at any time before final judgment is entered, damages awarded under this subsection shall be computed in accordance with the following provisions:

1. The party aggrieved may recover the actual damages suffered as a result of the violation and any profits of the violator attributable to the violation that are not taken into account in computing actual damages. The court shall consider the value of all services available to the violator from the use of an unlawful telecommunications device including the value of monthly service and all pay-for-view services offered during the relevant time period. In determining the violator's profits, the party aggrieved shall be required to prove only the violator's gross revenue and the violator shall be required to prove his deductible expenses and the elements of profit attributable to factors other than the violation; or

2. The party aggrieved may recover an award of statutory damages in a sum of not less than $250 or more than $10,000 for each unlawful telecommunication device involved in the action. In any case in which the court finds that the violation was committed willfully and for purposes of commercial advantage or private financial gain, the court in its discretion may increase the award of damages, whether actual or statutory, as set forth above, by an amount of not more than $50,000 for each unlawful telecommunication device involved in the action.

D. A telecommunication service provider prevailing in an action pursuant to this section is entitled to recover from the defendant, upon application to the court, court costs and attorney fees.

2. That the provisions of this act may result in a net increase in periods of imprisonment or

183 commitment. Pursuant to § 30-19.1:4, the estimated amount of the necessary appropriation cannot 184 be determined for periods of imprisonment in state adult correctional facilities and $0 for periods
185 of commitment to the custody of the Department of Juvenile Justice. #
