6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:7 1. That § 15.2-1433 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

8 § 15.2-1433. Codification and recodification of ordinances.

9 Any locality may codify or recodify any or all of its ordinances, in permanently bound or loose-leaf 10 form. Such ordinances may be changed, altered or amended by the governing body, and ordinances or 11 portions thereof may be deleted and new material may be added by the governing body. Such changes, 12 alterations, amendments or deletions and such new material shall become effective on the effective date 13 of the codification or recodification.

14 Ordinances relating to zoning and the subdivision of land may be included in any codification or 15 recodification of ordinances; however, no change, alteration, amendment, deletion or addition of a 16 substantive nature shall be made and no new material of a substantive nature shall be added to such 17 ordinances unless, prior to the date of adoption of such codification or recodification, notice of such 18 proposed changes, alterations, amendments, deletions or additions shall be published as required by the 19 Code of Virginia and public hearings held thereon as provided by the Code of Virginia for adoption and 20 amendment of zoning and subdivision ordinances. Renumbering or rearranging of sections, articles or 21 other divisions of any such ordinance shall not be deemed to be a change, alteration or amendment of a 22 substantive nature.

23 Any such codification or recodification may be adopted by reference by a single ordinance, without 24 further publication of such codification or recodification or any portions thereof. The ordinance adopting 25 such codification or recodification shall comply with all laws of the Commonwealth and any provision 26 of any city or town charter requiring posting or publication of ordinances or notice of intent to adopt
27 ordinances. At least one copy of such codification or recodification or a complete set of printer's proofs 28 of the text thereof shall be made available for public inspection in the office of the clerk of the 29 governing body in which such codification or recodification is proposed to be adopted.

30 No ordinance levying or increasing taxes shall be enacted as new material in any such codification or 31 recodification or amended in substance therein unless advertised in accordance with general law.

32 Supplements for such codifications or recodifications may be prepared from time to time at the 33 direction of the governing body of the locality, either as units or on a replacement page basis; however,
34 where replacement pages are prepared, a distinguishing mark or notation shall be placed on each 35 replacement page to distinguish it from original pages and pages of other supplements. No further 36 adoption procedure shall be required for supplements or replacement pages in which no substantive 37 change is made in ordinances previously and validly adopted by the governing body of the locality. If 38 changes, alterations, amendments, deletions or additions of a substantive nature are made in any such 39 supplement, then such supplement shall be adopted by the governing body in the same manner provided 40 by general or special law.

41 At least ~~three copies~~ one copy of any codification or recodification adopted hereunder and at least 42 ~~three copies~~ one copy of every supplement thereto shall be kept in the office of the clerk of the 43 governing body and shall there be available for public inspection during normal business hours.

44 Any codification or recodification adopted hereunder shall be admitted in evidence in all courts 45 without further proof.
