Current Law- Neighborhood Assistance Act

The Neighborhood Assistance Program allows tax credits for business firms and individuals who contribute to approved neighborhood assistance organizations designed to benefit impoverished individuals. The credit can be applied against the income tax imposed on individuals, trusts, estates, and corporations; the bank franchise tax; and the gross receipts tax imposed on insurance and public service corporations.

The total amount of credits the Department of Social Services is authorized to allocate to approved neighborhood assistance organizations is limited to $8 million in a fiscal year. However, $2.75 million of this amount must be designated for allocation to education programs. If requests for credits by education programs are less than $2.75 million, then any remaining amount can be allocated to other programs.

In 2004, several changes were made to the Neighborhood Assistance Program. The credits were made available to eligible health professionals who provide health care services without charge, regardless of where those services are delivered. The Act also was clarified so that clinics operated by a neighborhood organization that receive an allocation of credits may grant such credits to individuals who provide health care services without charge.

Finally, the law was amended to expand the list of eligible health professions to include chiropractors that donate time to perform health care services. Previously, the credits were available only to physicians, dentists, nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, optometrists, dental hygienists, pharmacists, professional counselors, clinical social workers, clinical psychologists, marriage and family therapists and physical therapists who donate time to perform health care services.

Proposal

This bill would provide an individual income tax credit to health care practitioners who provide free medical services to indigent persons. This bill would define "indigent persons" as those individuals whose gross family income is equal to or less than 100 percent of the federal nonfarm poverty level published in the Code of Federal Regulations for the current year. This would parallel the definition used in Code of Virginia §32.1-333(C)(1).

The amount of the credit would be equal to 25% of the fee the practitioner would charge for the service. However, the annual amount of the credit would be limited to $3,000 or the tax liability of the practitioner, whichever was less. The credit would be available for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2006.

The health practitioners who would qualify for this proposed credit are individuals who are certified or licensed by any of the health regulatory boards within the Department of Health Professions, except individuals regulated by the Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers or the Board of Veterinary Medicine. This includes individuals certified or licensed by the Board of Health Professions, the Board of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology, the Board of Counseling, the Board of Dentistry, the Board of Medicine, the Board of Nursing, the Board of Nursing Home Administrators, the Board of Optometry, the Board of Pharmacy, the Board of Physical Therapy, the Board of Psychology, and the Board of Social Work.

Under this bill, those individuals who claim the credit provided under the Neighborhood Assistance Act would be ineligible to claim this credit for the same medical services.

Other Legislation

House Bill 1512 is similar to this bill, but it would limit the credit to $500 annually.
