6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:7 1. That § 8.01-232 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

8 § 8.01-232. Effect of promises not to plead statute.

9 A. Whenever the failure to enforce a promise, written or unwritten, not to plead the statute of 10 limitations would operate as a fraud on the promisee, the promisor shall be estopped to plead the statute.
11 In all other cases, an unwritten promise not to plead the statute shall be void, and a written promise not
12 to plead such statute shall ~~have the effect of a promise to pay the debt or discharge the liability~~ be valid
13 when (i) it is made to avoid or defer litigation pending settlement of any case, (ii) it is not made
14 contemporaneously with any other contract, and (iii) it is made for an additional term not longer than 15 the applicable limitations period. No provision of this subsection shall operate contrary to subsections B
16 and C of this section.

17 B. No acknowledgment or promise by any personal representative of a decedent shall charge the 18 estate of the decedent, revive a cause of action otherwise barred, or relieve the personal representative of 19 his duty to defend under § 26-5 in any case in which but for such acknowledgment or promise, the 20 decedent's estate could have been protected under a statute of limitations.

21 C. No acknowledgment or promise by one of two or more joint contractors shall charge any of such 22 contractors in any case in which but for such acknowledgment another contractor would have been 23 protected under a statute of limitations.
