§ 59.1-443.3. Freezing access to credit reports.

A. As used in this section:

"Consumer" means any individual residing in the Commonwealth.

"Consumer reporting agency" means any person who, for monetary fees or dues or on a cooperative nonprofit basis, regularly engages in whole or in part in the practice of assembling or evaluating consumer credit information or other information on consumers for the purpose of furnishing credit reports to third parties.

"Credit report" means any written, oral, or other communication of any information by a consumer reporting agency bearing on a consumer's credit worthiness, credit standing, credit capacity, character, general reputation, personal characteristics or mode of living that is used or expected to be used or collected in whole or in part for the purpose of serving as a factor in establishing the consumer's eligibility for (i) credit or insurance to be used primarily for personal, family, or household purposes; (ii) employment purposes; or (iii) any other purpose authorized under 15 U.S.C. § 1681b.

"Reviewing the account" or "account review" includes activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements.

"Security freeze" means a notice, at the request of the consumer and subject to certain exceptions, that prohibits the consumer reporting agency from releasing all or any part of the consumer's credit report or any information derived from it without the express authorization of the consumer.

B. A consumer may elect to place a security freeze on his credit report by requesting a consumer reporting agency to place a security freeze on his credit report, which request shall be submitted by mail or telephone, or by secure electronic mail connection if made available by the consumer reporting agency, and shall include certain personal identification. If a consumer requests a security freeze, the consumer reporting agency shall disclose the process of placing and temporarily lifting a freeze and the process for allowing access to information from the consumer's credit report by a specific party or for a specific period of time while the freeze is in place. A consumer reporting agency shall require proper identification of the person making a request to establish a security freeze. The consumer reporting agency shall place a security freeze on a consumer's credit report not later than five business days after receipt of a request by mail or telephone, or three business days after receiving a secure electronic mail request. By July 1, 2009, a consumer reporting agency shall place a security freeze on a consumer's credit report no later than three business days after receiving a written or telephone request from a consumer and one business day after receiving a secure electronic mail request.

C. The consumer reporting agency shall send a written confirmation of the security freeze to such consumer within five business days and shall provide the consumer with a unique personal identification number or password to be used by the consumer when providing authorization for the release of such consumer's credit report to a specific party or for a period of time or when permanently lifting the freeze.

D. If the consumer wishes to authorize the disclosure of his credit report to a third party, or for a period of time, while such security freeze is in effect, the consumer shall contact the consumer reporting agency via telephone, mail, or secure electronic mail with a request that the freeze be temporarily lifted and provide:

1. Proper identification;
2. The unique personal identification number or password provided by the consumer reporting agency as described in subsection C; and
3. Proper information regarding the third party who is to receive the credit report or the time period for which the credit report shall be available to users of the credit report.

E. Any consumer reporting agency that receives a request from a consumer to temporarily lift his security freeze shall do so no later than three business days after receiving the request. By July 1, 2009, a consumer reporting agency shall honor such a request no later than one business day after receiving

181 such a request made by telephone or electronic mail. A consumer reporting agency shall develop
182 procedures involving the use of telephone, fax, or, upon the consent of the consumer in the manner
183 required by the Electronic Signatures in Global and National Commerce Act for legally required
184 notices, by Internet, e-mail, or other electronic media for receiving and processing such requests from 185 consumers.

186 F. A consumer reporting agency shall remove or temporarily lift a security freeze placed on a
187 consumer's credit report only upon consumer request pursuant to subsection D or H or if the consumer's
188 credit report was frozen due to a material misrepresentation of fact by the consumer. If a consumer
189 reporting agency intends to remove a security freeze because the credit report was frozen due to a
190 material misrepresentation of fact by the consumer, the consumer reporting agency shall notify the 191 consumer in writing five business days prior to removing the security freeze.

192 G. If a third party requests access to a credit report on which a security freeze is in effect:

193 1. In connection with an application for credit or any other use, and if the consumer does not allow 194 his credit report to be accessed for that specific party or period of time, the third party may treat the 195 application as incomplete; or

196 2. For the purpose of receiving, extending, or otherwise utilizing the credit within, and not solely for 197 the purpose of account review, the consumer reporting agency shall notify the consumer that an attempt
198 has been made to access the credit report.

199 H. A security freeze shall remain in effect until the consumer requests that it be removed. A
200 consumer reporting agency shall remove a security freeze within three business days of receiving a
201 request for removal from the consumer, which request shall include both proper identification of the 202 person making the request to remove the security freeze and the unique personal identification number
203 or password provided by the consumer reporting agency as described in subsection C. By July 1, 2009,
204 a consumer reporting agency shall remove a credit freeze within one business days after receiving such 205 a request.

206 I. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the use of a credit report by any of the following:

207 1. A person with whom the consumer has or has had an account, contract, or debtor-creditor
208 relationship, or the person's subsidiary, affiliate, agent, or assignee, for the purpose of (i) reviewing the 209 account, including activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and 210 account upgrades and enhancements; (ii) conducting activities related to account maintenance,
211 monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements; or (iii) collecting the
212 financial obligation owing for the account, contract, or debt;

213 2. A subsidiary, affiliate, agent, assignee, or prospective assignee of a person to whom access has 214 been granted under subsection F for purposes of facilitating the extension of credit or other permissible
215 use;

216 3. Any person acting pursuant to a court order, warrant, or subpoena;

217 4. A state or local agency, or its agents or assigns, that administers a program for establishing and 218 enforcing child support obligations;

219 5. A state or local agency, or its agents or assigns, acting to investigate fraud, including Medicaid
220 fraud, or acting to investigate or collect delinquent taxes or assessments, including interest and 221 penalties, unpaid court orders, or to fulfill any of its other statutory responsibilities;

222 6. A federal, state, or local governmental entity, including law-enforcement agency or court or its 223 agents or assigns;

224 7. A person for the purposes of prescreening as defined by the Fair Credit Reporting Act, 15 U.S.C.
225 § 1681, et seq.;

226 8. Any person for the sole purpose of providing for a credit file monitoring subscription service to 227 which the consumer has subscribed; and

228 9. A consumer reporting agency for the purpose of providing a consumer with a copy of the 229 consumer's credit report upon the consumer's request.

230 J. This section shall not prevent a consumer reporting agency from charging a fee of no more than 231 $5 to a consumer for establishing a security freeze, removing a security freeze, temporarily lifting a
232 security freeze for a period of time, or temporarily lifting a security freeze for a specific party,
233 regarding access to a credit report.

234 K. At any time when a consumer is required to receive a summary of rights required under § 609 of 235 the federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, the following notice shall be included:

236 "Virginia Consumers Have the Right to Obtain a Security Freeze.

237 You have a right to place a "security freeze" on your credit report pursuant to Virginia law. The 238 security freeze will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing any information in your credit
239 report without your express authorization.

240 The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your 241 name without your consent or approval.

242 When you place a security freeze on your credit report, you will be provided a personal

243 identification number or a password to use when you want to remove or lift temporarily the security
244 freeze.

245 A freeze does not apply when you have an existing account relationship and a copy of your report is 246 requested by your existing creditor or its agents or affiliates for certain types of account review,
247 collection, fraud control, or similar activities.

248 You should plan ahead and lift a freeze if you are actively seeking credit or services, as a security
249 freeze may slow your application, as mentioned above.

250 You can remove a freeze or authorize temporary access for a specific period of time by contacting
251 the consumer reporting agency and providing all of the following:

252 1. Your personal identification number or password,

253 2. Proper identification to verify your identity, and

254 3. Proper information regarding the period of time you want your report available to users of the 255 credit report.

256 A consumer reporting agency that receives a request from you to temporarily lift a freeze on a credit
257 report shall comply with the request no later than three business days after receiving the request. A
258 consumer reporting agency may charge you up to $5 each time you freeze, remove the freeze, or 259 temporarily lift the freeze for a period of time."

260 L. A consumer reporting agency shall not suggest or otherwise state or imply to a third party that 261 the consumer's security freeze reflects a negative credit score, history, report, or rating.

262 M. A consumer reporting agency shall require proper identification of the person making a request
263 to place or remove a security freeze.

264 N. A violation of this section shall constitute a prohibited practice pursuant to the provisions of 265 § 59.1-200 and shall be subject to all of the enforcement provisions of the Virginia Consumer Protection
266 Act (§ 59.1-196 et seq.).

267 § 59.1-444. Damages.

268 A person aggrieved by a violation of any provision of this chapter, except § 59.1-443.2 or 269 59.1-443.3, shall be entitled to institute an action to recover damages in the amount of $100 per 270 violation. In addition, if the aggrieved party prevails, he may be awarded reasonable attorney's fees and 271 court costs. Actions under this section shall be brought in the general district court for the city or county
272 in which the transaction or other violation that gave rise to the action occurred. A violation of the 273 provisions of § 59.1-443.2 or 59.1-443.3 is a prohibited practice under the Virginia Consumer Protection
274 Act (§ 59.1-196 et seq.).
