

10102522D

HOUSE BILL NO. 882

Offered January 13, 2010

Prefiled January 13, 2010

A BILL to amend and reenact § 15.2-2316.2 of the Code of Virginia, relating to transfer of development rights.

_____
Patron—Athey

_____
Referred to Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:*1. That § 15.2-2316.2 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

§ 15.2-2316.2. Localities may provide for transfer of development rights.

A. Pursuant to the provisions of this article, the governing body of any locality by ordinance may, in order to conserve and promote the public health, safety, and general welfare, establish procedures, methods, and standards for the transfer of development rights within its jurisdiction. Any locality adopting or amending any such transfer of development rights ordinance shall give notice and hold a public hearing in accordance with § 15.2-2204 prior to approval by the governing body.

B. In order to implement the provisions of this act, a locality shall adopt an ordinance that shall provide for:

1. The issuance and recordation of the instruments necessary to sever development rights from the sending property, to convey development rights to one or more parties, or to affix development rights to one or more receiving properties. These instruments shall be executed by the property owners of the development rights being transferred, and any lien holders of such property owners. The instruments shall identify the development rights being severed, and the sending properties or the receiving properties, as applicable;

2. Assurance that the prohibitions against the use and development of the sending property shall bind the landowner and every successor in interest to the landowner;

3. The severance of transferable development rights from the sending property;

4. The purchase, sale, exchange, or other conveyance of transferable development rights, after severance, and prior to the rights being affixed to a receiving property;

5. A system for monitoring the severance, ownership, assignment, and transfer of transferable development rights;

6. A map or other description of areas designated as sending and receiving areas for the transfer of development rights between properties;

7. The identification of parcels, if any, within a receiving area that are inappropriate as receiving properties;

8. The permitted uses and the maximum increases in density in the receiving area;

9. The minimum acreage of a sending property and the minimum reduction in density of the sending property that may be conveyed in severance or transfer of development rights;

10. The development rights severed from the sending areas ~~to be equal to the development rights permitted to be attached in the receiving areas~~ and attached to the receiving areas shall be transferred at a rate of one dwelling unit per density right or greater;

11. An assessment of the infrastructure in the receiving area that identifies the ability of the area to accept increases in density and its plans to provide necessary utility services within any designated receiving area; and

12. The application to be deemed approved upon the determination of compliance with the ordinance by the agent of the planning commission, or other agent designated by the locality.

C. In order to implement the provisions of this act, a locality may provide in its ordinance for:

1. The purchase of all or part of such development rights, which shall retire the development rights so purchased;

2. The severance of development rights from existing zoned or subdivided properties as otherwise provided in subsection E;

3. The owner of such development rights to make application to the locality for a real estate tax abatement for a period up to 25 years, to compensate the owner of such development rights for the fair market value of all or part of the development rights, which shall retire the number of development rights equal to the amount of the tax abatement, and such abatement is transferable with the property;

4. The owner of a property to request designation by the locality of the owner's property as a "sending property" or a "receiving property";

INTRODUCED

HB882

59 5. The allowance for residential density to be converted to bonus density on the receiving property
60 by (i) an increase in the residential density on the receiving property or (ii) an increase in the square
61 feet of commercial, industrial, or other uses on the receiving property, which upon conversion shall 62 retire the development rights so converted;

63 6. The receiving areas to include such urban development areas in the locality established pursuant to 64 § 15.2-2223.1;

65 7. The sending properties, subsequent to severance of development rights, to generate one or more
66 forms of renewable energy, as defined in § 56-576, subject to the provisions of the local zoning
67 ordinance;

68 8. The sending properties, subsequent to severance of development rights, to produce agricultural 69 products or forestal products, as defined in § 15.2-4302;

70 9. The review of an application by the planning commission to determine whether the application
71 complies with the provisions of the ordinance;

72 10. Such other provisions as the locality deems necessary to aid in the implementation of the 73 provisions of this act; and

74 11. Approval of an application upon the determination of compliance with the ordinance by the agent
75 of the planning commission.

76 D. The locality may, by ordinance, designate receiving areas or receiving properties, or add to,
77 supplement, or amend its designations of receiving areas or receiving properties, so long as the 78 development rights permitted to be attached in the receiving areas are equal to the development rights
79 permitted to be severed in the sending areas.

80 E. Any proposed severance or transfer of development rights shall only be initiated upon application 81 by the property owners of the sending properties, development rights, or receiving properties as 82 otherwise provided herein.

83 F. A locality may not require property owners to sever or transfer development rights as a condition
84 of the development of any property.

85 G. The owner of a property may sever development rights from the sending property, pursuant to the 86 provisions of this act. An application to transfer development rights to one or more receiving properties, 87 for the purpose of affixing such rights thereto, shall only be initiated upon application by the owner of 88 such development rights and the owners of the receiving properties.

89 H. Development rights severed pursuant to this article shall be interests in real property and shall be 90 considered as such for purposes of conveyance and taxation. Once a deed for transferable development
91 rights, created pursuant to this act, has been recorded in the land records of the office of the circuit
92 court clerk for the locality to reflect the transferable development rights sold, conveyed, or otherwise
93 transferred by the owner of the sending property, the development rights shall vest in the grantee and 94 may be transferred by such grantee to a successor in interest. Nothing herein shall be construed to
95 prevent the owner of the sending property from recording a deed covenant against the sending property
96 severing the development rights on said property, with the owner of the sending property retaining
97 ownership of the severed development rights. Any transfer of the development rights to a property in a
98 receiving area shall be in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance adopted pursuant to this 99 article.

100 I. For the purposes of ad valorem real property taxation, the value of a transferable development 101 right shall be deemed appurtenant to the sending property until the transferable development right is 102 severed from and recorded as a distinct interest in real property, or the transferable development right is 103 used at a receiving property and becomes appurtenant thereto. Once a transferable development right is 104 severed from the sending property, the assessment of the fee interest in the sending property shall reflect 105 any change in the fair market value that results from the inability of the owner of the fee interest to use
106 such property for such uses terminated by the severance of the transferable development right. Upon 107 severance from the sending property and recordation as a distinct interest in real property, the 108 transferable development right shall be assessed at its fair market value on a separate real estate tax bill
109 sent to the owner of said development right as taxable real estate in accordance with Article 1
110 (§ 58.1-3200 et seq.) of Chapter 32 of Title 58.1. The development right shall be taxed as taxable real
111 estate by the local jurisdiction where the sending property is located, until such time as the development
112 right becomes attached to a receiving property, at which time it shall be taxed as taxable real estate by 113 the local jurisdiction where the receiving property is located.

114 J. The owner of a sending property from which development rights are severed shall provide a copy
115 of the instrument, showing the deed book and page number, or instrument or GPIN, to the real estate
116 tax assessor for the locality.

117 K. Localities, from time to time as the locality designates sending and receiving areas, shall 118 incorporate the map identified in subdivision B 6 into the comprehensive plan.

119 L. No amendment to the zoning map, nor any amendments to the text of the zoning ordinance with 120 respect to the zoning district applicable thereto initiated by the governing body, which eliminate, or

121 materially restrict, reduce, or downzone the uses, or the density of uses permitted in the zoning district
122 applicable to any property to which development rights have been transferred, shall be effective with 123 respect to such property unless there has been mistake, fraud, or a material change in circumstances
124 substantially affecting the public health, safety, or welfare.

125 M. A county adopting an ordinance pursuant to this article may designate eligible receiving areas in 126 any incorporated town within such county, if the governing body of the town has also amended its 127 zoning ordinance to designate the same areas as eligible to receive density being transferred from 128 sending areas in the county. The development right shall be taxed as taxable real estate by the local 129 jurisdiction where the sending property is located, until such time as the development right becomes 130 attached to a receiving property, at which time it shall be taxed as taxable real estate by the local 131 jurisdiction where the receiving property is located.

132 N. Any county and an adjacent city may enter voluntarily into an agreement to permit the county to 133 designate eligible receiving areas in the city if the governing body of the city has also amended its 134 zoning ordinance to designate the same areas as eligible to receive density being transferred from 135 sending areas in the county. The city council shall designate areas it deems suitable as receiving areas
136 and shall designate the maximum increases in density in each such receiving area. However, if any such 137 agreement contains any provision addressing any issue provided for in Chapter 32 (§ 15.2-3200 et seq.),
138 33 (§ 15.2-3300 et seq.), 36 (§ 15.2-3600 et seq.), 38 (§ 15.2-3800 et seq.), 39 (§ 15.2-3900 et seq.), or 139 41 (§ 15.2-4100 et seq.), the agreement shall be subject to the review and implementation process
140 established by Chapter 34 (§ 15.2-3400 et seq.). The development right shall be taxed as taxable real
141 estate by the local jurisdiction where the sending property is located, until such time as the development
142 right becomes attached to a receiving property, at which time it shall be taxed as taxable real estate by 143 the local jurisdiction where the receiving property is located.

144 1. The terms and conditions of the density transfer agreement as provided in this subsection shall be 145 determined by the affected localities and shall be approved by the governing body of each locality
146 participating in the agreement, provided the governing body of each such locality first holds a public
147 hearing, which shall be advertised once a week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general
148 circulation in the locality.

149 2. The governing bodies shall petition a circuit court having jurisdiction in one or more of the 150 localities for an order affirming the proposed agreement. The circuit court shall be limited in its decision
151 to either affirming or denying the agreement and shall have no authority, without the express approval
152 of each local governing body, to amend or change the terms or conditions of the agreement, but shall 153 have the authority to validate the agreement and give it full force and effect. The circuit court shall 154 affirm the agreement unless the court finds either that the agreement is contrary to the best interests of 155 the Commonwealth or that it is not in the best interests of each of the parties thereto.

156 3. The agreement shall not become binding on the localities until affirmed by the court under this 157 subsection. Once approved by the circuit court, the agreement shall also bind future local governing 158 bodies of the localities.