2. A breaker or fuse in the high voltage circuit that contains the traction battery pack and the motor controller. Such breaker or fuse must be rated to interrupt the expected maximum current at or above the battery pack voltage;

3. An externally mounted switch to open the high voltage circuit in case of an emergency. Such switch must be located where the fuel tank filler cap was located prior to conversion. Any cover protecting the switch must be able to be opened from the outside of the vehicle;

4. Traction batteries mounted in secure nonconductive enclosures that provide for limited access. Multiple enclosures may be used but must be connected by high voltage cables encased in conduit made of metal, composite, or other materials of comparable strength, crush, and abrasion resistance to metal or composite;

5. If batteries other than lead acid batteries are used as traction batteries, a temperature monitoring system that monitors the temperature of a least one battery in each battery enclosure. Such system must warn the driver of the vehicle if the temperature of the battery is rising rapidly or is above safe levels;

6. Conduit made of metal, composite, or other materials of comparable strength, crush, and abrasion resistance to metal or composite, encasing any high voltage cables running under or outside of the vehicle. Such conduit must be secured to the vehicle chassis and must not violate the ground clearance provisions of § 46.2-1063;

7. A vacuum system and pump, or comparable equipment, to maintain proper brake function and capacity, as required by this chapter; and

8. Labeling on three sides of the vehicle identifying such vehicle as "CONVERTED ELECTRIC." Each label shall be at least six inches long and consist of lettering at least three inches tall.

At such time as the federal government establishes minimum equipment and safety standards, including any related to synthetic vehicle sounds, for converted electric vehicles, to the extent that such standards are different from the standards established by this section, the federal standards shall apply to converted electric vehicles in the Commonwealth. If any federal standard conflicts with a standard set forth by this section, the stricter standard shall prevail.

§ 46.2-1048. Pollution control systems or devices.

No motor vehicle registered in the Commonwealth and manufactured for the model year 1973 or for subsequent model years shall be operated on the highways in the Commonwealth unless it is equipped with an air pollution control system, device, or combination of such systems or devices installed in accordance with federal laws and regulations.

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a motor vehicle, as herein described, on the highways in the Commonwealth with its pollution control system or device removed or otherwise rendered inoperable.

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate on the highways in the Commonwealth a motor vehicle, as described in this section, equipped with any emission control system or device unless it is of a type installed as standard factory equipment, or comparable to that designed for use upon the particular vehicle as standard factory equipment.

No motor vehicle, as described in this section, shall be issued a safety inspection approval sticker unless it is equipped as provided under the foregoing provisions of this section or if it violates this section.

428 The provisions of this section shall not prohibit or prevent shop adjustments or replacements of 429 equipment for maintenance or repair or the conversion of engines to low polluting fuels, such as, but not
430 limited to, natural gas or propane, so long as such action does not degrade the antipollution capabilities
431 of the vehicle power system.

432 The provisions of this section shall not apply to converted electric vehicles.

433 § 46.2-1049. Exhaust system in good working order.

434 No person shall drive and no owner of a vehicle shall permit or allow the operation of any such 435 vehicle on a highway unless it is equipped with an exhaust system in good working order and in
436 constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual levels of noise; provided however, that for motor
437 vehicles, such exhaust system shall be of a type installed as standard factory equipment, or comparable
438 to that designed for use on the particular vehicle as standard factory equipment. An exhaust system shall 439 not be deemed to prevent excessive or unusual noise if it permits the escape of noise in excess of that
440 permitted by the standard factory equipment exhaust system of private passenger motor vehicles or 441 trucks of standard make.

442 The term "exhaust system," as used in this section, means all the parts of a vehicle through which 443 the exhaust passes after leaving the engine block, including mufflers and other sound dissipative devices.

444 Chambered pipes are not an effective muffling device to prevent excessive or unusual noise, and any 445 vehicle equipped with chambered pipes shall be deemed in violation of this section.

446 The provisions of this section shall not apply to converted electric vehicles.

447 § 46.2-1158. Frequency of inspection; scope of inspection.

448 Motor vehicles, trailers, and semitrailers required to be inspected pursuant to the provisions of 449 § 46.2-1157 shall be reinspected within ~~twelve~~ 12 months of the month of the first inspection and at 450 least once every ~~twelve~~ 12 months thereafter.

451 Each inspection shall be a complete inspection. A reinspection of a rejected vehicle by the same
452 station during the period of validity of the rejection sticker on such vehicle, however, need only include
453 an inspection of the item or items previously found defective unless there is found an obvious defect
454 that would warrant further rejection of the vehicle.

455 A rejection sticker shall be valid for ~~fifteen~~ 15 calendar days beyond the day of issuance. A complete
456 inspection shall be performed on any vehicle bearing an expired rejection sticker.

457 The completion of the conversion process for a converted electric vehicle shall invalidate any
458 inspection of such vehicle conducted in accordance with this section prior to the conversion. Following
459 the initial inspection of a converted electric vehicle, as required under § 46.2-602.3 and the provisions
460 of this chapter, such vehicle shall be reinspected in accordance with this section.
