WHEREAS, while working a full-time job throughout his tenure as fire chief, Tommy Lewis has ably presided over the business and operational functions of the Cople District VFD, an all-volunteer department that has never had more than 24 active firefighters, yet responds to over 400 calls per year; and

WHEREAS, under Tommy Lewis's strong, competent, and highly professional leadership, the capabilities of the department have grown to include not just firefighting, but responses to vehicle accidents, hazardous materials spills, and natural disasters; the department also provides emergency medical aid and patient transportation and can carry out marine and cold-weather rescue operations; and

WHEREAS, through visionary planning, Tommy Lewis has expanded the department's facilities and acquired the proper equipment to turn the department into a modern, highly technical response organization with the same capabilities as many full-time fire departments; and

WHEREAS, Tommy Lewis has been a strong advocate for community spirit, leading the department to sponsor or co-sponsor with the Kinsale Foundation, a series of annual events like the popular Independence Day celebration, Kinsale Day, Christmas in Kinsale, and Easter egg hunts; the proceeds from some of these events are donated toward social programs that benefit the less fortunate citizens of the community; and

WHEREAS, throughout his tenure, Tommy Lewis was known as a master of collaborative leadership, and he always helped the other members of the department arrive at the correct decision on their own; and

WHEREAS, Tommy Lewis leaves an enduring legacy of professionalism, dedication, preparedness, and concern for the community to the younger members of the Cople District VFD; he is a role model for the future chiefs of the department; now, therefore, be it
