8                   Referred to Committee on Finance

9                   Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

10                  1. That § 58.1-811, as it is currently effective and as it may become effective, of the Code of 11                  Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

12                  § 58.1-811. (Contingent expiration date) Exemptions.

13                  A. The taxes imposed by §§ 58.1-801 and 58.1-807 shall not apply to any deed conveying real estate
14                  or lease of real estate:15                  1. To an incorporated college or other incorporated institution of learning not conducted for profit, 16                  where such real estate is intended to be used for educational purposes and not as a source of revenue or 17                  profit;18                  2. To an incorporated church or religious body or to the trustee or trustees of any church or religious 19                  body, or a corporation mentioned in § 57-16.1, where such real estate is intended to be used exclusively 20                  for religious purposes, or for the residence of the minister of any such church or religious body;21                  3. To the United States, the Commonwealth, or to any county, city, town, district or other political 22                  subdivision of the Commonwealth;

23                  4. To the Virginia Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy;

24                  5. To any nonstock corporation organized exclusively for the purpose of owning or operating a 25                  hospital or hospitals not for pecuniary profit;26                  6. To a corporation upon its organization by persons in control of the corporation in a transaction
27                  which qualifies for nonrecognition of gain or loss pursuant to § 351 of the Internal Revenue Code as it
28                  exists at the time of the conveyance;29                  7. From a corporation to its stockholders upon complete or partial liquidation of the corporation in a 30                  transaction which qualifies for income tax treatment pursuant to § 331, 332, 333, or 337 of the Internal 31                  Revenue Code as it exists at the time of liquidation;32                  8. To the surviving or new corporation, partnership, limited partnership, business trust, or limited 33                  liability company upon a merger or consolidation to which two or more such entities are parties, or in a
34                  reorganization within the meaning of § 368(a)(1)(C) and (F) of the Internal Revenue Code as amended;35                  9. To a subsidiary corporation from its parent corporation, or from a subsidiary corporation to a
36                  parent corporation, if the transaction qualifies for nonrecognition of gain or loss under the Internal 37                  Revenue Code as amended;38                  10. To a partnership or limited liability company, when the grantors are entitled to receive not less
39                  than 50 percent of the profits and surplus of such partnership or limited liability company; provided that 40                  the transfer to a limited liability company is not a precursor to a transfer of control of the assets of the 41                  company to avoid recordation taxes;42                  11. From a partnership or limited liability company, when the grantees are entitled to receive not less
43                  than 50 percent of the profits and surplus of such partnership or limited liability company; provided that 44                  the transfer from a limited liability company is not subsequent to a transfer of control of the assets of 45                  the company to avoid recordation taxes;46                  12. To trustees of a revocable inter vivos trust, when the grantors in the deed and the beneficiaries of 47                  the trust are the same persons, regardless of whether other beneficiaries may also be named in the trust 48                  instrument, when no consideration has passed between the grantor and the beneficiaries; and to the 49                  original beneficiaries of a trust from the trustees holding title under a deed in trust;50                  13. When the grantor is the personal representative of a decedent's estate or trustee under a will or 51                  inter vivos trust of which the decedent was the settlor, other than a deed of trust conveying property to 52                  secure the payment of money or the performance of an obligation, and the sole purpose of such transfer 53                  is to comply with a devise or bequest in the decedent's will or to transfer title to one or more
54                  beneficiaries after the death of the settlor in accordance with a dispositive provision in the trust
55                  instrument; or56                  14. When the grantor is an organization exempt from taxation under § 501(c)(3) of the Internal
