SENATE BILL NO. 71

Offered January 13, 2016

Prefiled December 21, 2015

A BILL to amend and reenact § 20-107.1 of the Code of Virginia, relating to entry of divorce decrees; maintenance and support of spouses.

Patron—Wexton

Referred to Committee for Courts of Justice

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:1. That § 20-107.1 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:*§ 20-107.1. Court may decree as to maintenance and support of spouses.

A. Pursuant to any proceeding arising under subsection L of § 16.1-241 or upon the entry of a decree providing (i) for the dissolution of a marriage, (ii) for a divorce, whether from the bond of matrimony or from bed and board, (iii) that neither party is entitled to a divorce, or (iv) for separate maintenance, the court may make such further decree as it shall deem expedient concerning the maintenance and support of the spouses, notwithstanding a party's failure to prove his grounds for divorce. However, the court shall have no authority to decree maintenance and support payable by the estate of a deceased spouse.

B. Any maintenance and support shall be subject to the provisions of § 20-109, and no permanent maintenance and support shall be awarded from a spouse if there exists in such spouse's favor a ground of divorce under the provisions of subdivision A (1) of § 20-91. However, the court may make such an award notwithstanding the existence of such ground if the court determines from clear and convincing evidence, that a denial of support and maintenance would constitute a manifest injustice, based upon the respective degrees of fault during the marriage and the relative economic circumstances of the parties.

C. The court, in its discretion, may decree that maintenance and support of a spouse be made in periodic payments for a defined duration, or in periodic payments for an undefined duration, or in a lump sum award, or in any combination thereof.

D. In addition to or in lieu of an award pursuant to subsection C, the court may reserve the right of a party to receive support in the future. In any case in which the right to support is so reserved, there shall be a rebuttable presumption that the reservation will continue for a period equal to 50 percent of the length of time between the date of the marriage and the date of separation. Once granted, the duration of such a reservation shall not be subject to modification.

E. The court, in determining whether to award support and maintenance for a spouse, shall consider the circumstances and factors which contributed to the dissolution of the marriage, specifically including adultery and any other ground for divorce under the provisions of subdivision A (3) or (6) of § 20-91 or § 20-95. In determining the nature, amount and duration of an award pursuant to this section, the court shall consider the following:

1. The obligations, needs and financial resources of the parties, including but not limited to income from all pension, profit sharing or retirement plans, of whatever nature;

2. The standard of living established during the marriage;

3. The duration of the marriage;

4. The age and physical and mental condition of the parties and any special circumstances of the family;

5. The extent to which the age, physical or mental condition or special circumstances of any child of the parties would make it appropriate that a party not seek employment outside of the home;

6. The contributions, monetary and nonmonetary, of each party to the well-being of the family;

7. The property interests of the parties, both real and personal, tangible and intangible;

8. The provisions made with regard to the marital property under § 20-107.3;

9. The earning capacity, including the skills, education and training of the parties and the present employment opportunities for persons possessing such earning capacity;

10. The opportunity for, ability of, and the time and costs involved for a party to acquire the appropriate education, training and employment to obtain the skills needed to enhance his or her earning ability;

11. The decisions regarding employment, career, economics, education and parenting arrangements made by the parties during the marriage and their effect on present and future earning potential, including the length of time one or both of the parties have been absent from the job market;

12. The extent to which either party has contributed to the attainment of education, training, career

59 position or profession of the other party; and

60 13. Such other factors, including the tax consequences to each party, as are necessary to consider the 61 equities between the parties.

62 F. In contested cases in the circuit courts, any order granting, reserving or denying a request for 63 spousal support shall be accompanied by written findings and conclusions of the court identifying the 64 factors in subsection E which support the court's order. If the court awards periodic support for a
65 defined duration, such findings shall identify the basis for the nature, amount and duration of the award
66 and, if appropriate, a specification of the events and circumstances reasonably contemplated by the court
67 which support the award.

68 G. For purposes of this section and § 20-109, "date of separation" means the earliest date at which 69 the parties are physically separated and at least one party intends such separation to be permanent
70 provided the separation is continuous thereafter and "defined duration" means a period of time (i) with a
71 specific beginning and ending date or (ii) specified in relation to the occurrence or cessation of an event
72 or condition other than death or termination pursuant to § 20-110.

73 H. Where there are no minor children whom the parties have a mutual duty to support, an order
74 directing the payment of spousal support, including those orders confirming separation agreements,
75 entered on or after October 1, 1985, whether they are original orders or modifications of existing orders,
76 shall contain the following:

77 1. If known, the name, date of birth and social security number of each party and, unless otherwise
78 ordered, each party's residential and, if different, mailing address, residential and employer telephone
79 number, driver's license number, and the name and address of his employer; however, when a protective
80 order has been issued or the court otherwise finds reason to believe that a party is at risk of physical or 81 emotional harm from the other party, information other than the name of the party at risk shall not be
82 included in the order;

83 2. The amount of periodic spousal support expressed in fixed sums, together with the payment
84 interval, the date payments are due, and the date the first payment is due;

85 3. A statement as to whether there is an order for health care coverage for a party;

86 4. If support arrearages exist, (i) to whom an arrearage is owed and the amount of the arrearage, (ii)
87 the period of time for which such arrearage is calculated, and (iii) a direction that all payments are to be
88 credited to current spousal support obligations first, with any payment in excess of the current obligation
89 applied to arrearages;

90 5. If spousal support payments are ordered to be paid directly to the obligee, and unless the court for
91 good cause shown orders otherwise, the parties shall give each other and the court at least 30 days'
92 written notice, in advance, of any change of address and any change of telephone number within 30
93 days after the change; and

94 6. Notice that in determination of a spousal support obligation, the support obligation as it becomes
95 due and unpaid creates a judgment by operation of law.
