4. Title: Address Confidentiality Program

5. Summary:

Current law directs the establishment of a Statewide Facilitator for Victims of Domestic Violence within the Office of the Attorney General. One of the primary functions of this position is the administration of an Address Confidentiality Program. Under the program, the Attorney General's office establishes designated addresses for victims of domestic violence and stalking participating in the program and forwards all first-class mail addressed to those addresses to the actual addresses of the program participants. The actual address of a program participant shall be available only to the Attorney General, those employees involved in the operation of the Address Confidentiality Program, and to law-enforcement officers. An applicant for the program may be certified for one year and recertified, upon application, every year thereafter.

The proposed legislation would expand the Address Confidentiality Program to include victims of sexual violence and human trafficking, in addition to domestic violence and stalking. It would also extend the initial certification period to three years and allow recertification every three years.
