11. Other comments: House Bill 2422 provides that an insurance institution or agent that shares nonpublic personal information with non-affiliated parties only in accordance with § 38.2-613 of the Code of Virginia does not have to continue to provide the annual privacy notice if the insurance institution's or agent's sharing practices have not changed since the last time a notice was given. (An insurance institution or agent that only shares nonpublic personal information with non-affiliated third parties in accordance with § 38.2-613 is not required to provide the consumer with an opt-out notice since this type of sharing is in accordance with the law.) If the insurance institution or agent changes its sharing practices, then a notice outlining the new practices must be given to the consumer.

House Bill 2422 makes Virginia law consistent with amendments to the federal Gramm Leach Bliley Act made in December, 2015, as part of the federal Fixing America's Surface Transportation Act to amend the GLBA annual privacy notice provisions.

The engrossed version of House Bill 2422 removed some unnecessary language.
