

VIRGINIA ACTS OF ASSEMBLY — CHAPTER

An Act to amend and reenact §§ 55-225.01 and 55-248.3:1 of the Code of Virginia, relating to landlord and tenant law; transient lodging as primary residence for fewer than 90 consecutive days; self-help eviction.

[S 286]

Approved

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:1. That §§ 55-225.01 and 55-248.3:1 of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted as follows:*§ 55-225.01. Sections applicable only to certain residential tenancies.

A. Residential tenancies. The Virginia Residential Landlord and Tenant Act (§ 55-248.2 et seq.) shall apply to occupancy in any single-family residential dwelling unit and any multifamily dwelling unit located in Virginia unless exempted pursuant to the provisions of this section.

B. Exempt residential dwelling units.

1. Where the landlord is a natural person, an estate, or a legal entity that owns no more than two single-family residential dwelling units in its own name subject to a rental agreement, such landlord may opt out of the Virginia Residential Landlord and Tenant Act (§ 55-248.2 et seq.) by so stating in a rental agreement with a tenant. Such residential dwelling units shall be exempt from the Virginia Residential Landlord and Tenant Act (§ 55-248.2 et seq.), and the provisions of §§ 55-225.01 through 55-225.48 shall be applicable.

2. Where occupancy is under a contract of sale of a dwelling unit or the property of which it is a part, if the occupant is the purchaser or a person who succeeds to his interest, the provisions of this chapter shall apply.

C. Tenancies and occupancies that are not residential tenancies. The following occupancies are not residential tenancies under this chapter:

1. Residence at a public or private institution, if incidental to detention or the provision of medical, geriatric, educational, counseling, religious, or similar services;

2. Occupancy by a member of a fraternal or social organization in the portion of a structure operated for the benefit of the organization;

3. Occupancy by an owner of a condominium unit or a holder of a proprietary lease in a cooperative;

4. Occupancy in a campground as defined in § 35.1-1;

5. Occupancy by a tenant who is not required to pay rent pursuant to a rental agreement;

6. Occupancy by an employee of a landlord whose right to occupancy in a multifamily dwelling unit is conditioned upon employment in and about the premises or a former employee whose occupancy continues less than 60 days; or

7. Occupancy in a public housing unit or other housing unit subject to regulation by the Department of Housing and Urban Development if the provisions of this chapter are inconsistent with the regulations of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

D. Occupancy in hotel, motel, and extended stay facility.

1. A guest who is an occupant of a hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, including those governed by the Virginia Real Estate Time-Share Act (§ 55-360 et seq.), boardinghouse, or similar transient lodging shall not be construed to be a tenant living in a dwelling unit if such person does not reside in such lodging as his primary residence. Such guest shall be exempt from this chapter, and the innkeeper or property owner, or his agent, shall have the right to use self-help eviction under Virginia law, without the necessity of the filing of an unlawful detainer action in a court of competent jurisdiction and the execution of a writ of possession issued pursuant to such action, which would otherwise be required under this chapter.

2. A hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, boardinghouse, or similar transient lodging shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter if overnight sleeping accommodations are furnished to a person for consideration if such person does not reside in such lodging as his primary residence.

3. If a person resides in a hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, including those governed by the Virginia Real Estate Time-Share Act (§ 55-360 et seq.), boardinghouse, or similar transient lodging as his primary residence for fewer than 90 consecutive days, such lodging shall not be subject to the provisions of this chapter. However, the owner of such lodging establishment shall give a five-day written notice of nonpayment to a person residing in such lodging and, upon the expiration of the five-day period specified in the notice, may exercise self-help eviction if payment in full has not

57 been received.

58 4. If a person resides in a hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, including
 59 those governed by the Virginia Real Estate Time-Share Act (§ 55-360 et seq.), boardinghouse, or similar
 60 transient lodging as his primary residence for more than 90 consecutive days or is subject to a written
 61 lease for more than 90 days, such lodging shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

62 5. Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude the owner of a lodging establishment that uses
 63 self-help eviction pursuant to this section from pursuing any civil or criminal remedies under the laws of
 64 the Commonwealth.

65 § 55-248.3:1. Applicability of chapter.

66 A. This chapter shall apply to all jurisdictions in the Commonwealth and may not be waived or 67 otherwise modified, in whole or in part, by the governing body of any locality, its boards and
 68 commissions or other instrumentalities, or the courts of the Commonwealth.

69 B. The provisions of this chapter shall apply to occupancy in all single-family and multifamily
 70 residential dwelling units and multifamily dwelling unit located in the Commonwealth. However, where
 71 the landlord is a natural person, an estate, or a legal entity that owns no more than two single-family
 72 residential dwelling units in its own name subject to a rental agreement, such landlord may opt out of
 73 the Virginia Residential Landlord and Tenant Act (§ 55-248.2 et seq.) by so stating in a rental agreement
 74 with a tenant. Such residential dwelling units shall be exempt from this chapter and the provisions of 75 §§ 55-225.01 through 55-225.48 shall be applicable.

76 The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to instances where occupancy under a contract of sale
 77 of a dwelling unit or the property of which it is a part, if the occupant is the purchaser or a person who 78 succeeds to his interest.

79 C. Tenancies and occupancies that are not residential tenancies. The following occupancies are not
 80 residential tenancies under this chapter:

81 1. Residence at a public or private institution, if incidental to detention or the provision of medical,
 82 geriatric, educational, counseling, religious, or similar services;

83 2. Occupancy by a member of a fraternal or social organization in the portion of a structure operated
 84 for the benefit of the organization;

85 3. Occupancy by an owner of a condominium unit or a holder of a proprietary lease in a cooperative;

86 4. Occupancy in a campground as defined in § 35.1-1;

87 5. Occupancy by a tenant who pays no rent pursuant to a rental agreement;

88 6. Occupancy by an employee of a landlord whose right to occupancy in a multifamily dwelling unit
 89 is conditioned upon employment in and about the premises or an former employee whose occupancy
 90 continues less than 60 days; or

91 7. Occupancy in a public housing unit or other housing unit subject to regulation by the Department
 92 of Housing and Urban Development, if the provisions of this chapter are inconsistent with the 93 regulations of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

94 D. Occupancy in hotel, motel, and extended stay facility.

95 1. A guest who is an occupant of a hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility,
 96 including those governed by the Virginia Real Estate Time-Share Act (§ 55-360 et seq.), boardinghouse,
 97 or similar transient lodging shall not be construed to be a tenant living in a dwelling unit if such person
 98 does not reside in such lodging as his primary residence. Such guest shall be exempt from this chapter,
 99 and the innkeeper or property owner, or his agent, shall have the right to use self-help eviction under
 100 Virginia law, without the necessity of the filing of an unlawful detainer action in a court of competent
 101 jurisdiction and the execution of a writ of possession issued pursuant to such action, which would 102 otherwise be required under this chapter.

103 2. A hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, boardinghouse, or similar
 104 transient lodging shall be exempt from the provisions of this chapter if overnight sleeping
 105 accommodations are furnished to a person for consideration if such person does not reside in such 106 lodging as his primary residence.

107 3. If a person resides in a hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, including
 108 those governed by the Virginia Real Estate Time-Share Act (§ 55-360 et seq.), boardinghouse, or similar
 109 transient lodging as his primary residence for fewer than 90 consecutive days, such lodging shall not be
 110 subject to the provisions of this chapter. However, the owner of such lodging establishment shall give a
 111 five-day written notice of nonpayment to a person residing in such lodging and, upon the expiration of 112 the five-day period specified in the notice, may exercise self-help eviction if payment in full has not
 113 been received.

114 4. If a person resides in a hotel, motel, extended stay facility, vacation residential facility, including
 115 those governed by the Virginia Real Estate Time-Share Act (§ 55-360 et seq.), boardinghouse, or similar
 116 transient lodging as his primary residence for more than 90 consecutive days or is subject to a written
 117 lease for more than 90 days, such lodging shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

118 5. Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude the owner of a lodging establishment that uses
119 self-help eviction pursuant to this section from pursuing any civil or criminal remedies under the laws of 120 the Commonwealth.
