Background

For purposes of the local tax on merchants' capital, "merchants' capital" is defined as inventory of stock on hand; daily rental vehicles; and all other taxable personal property of any kind whatsoever, except money on hand and on deposit and except tangible personal property not offered for sale as merchandise. This classification of personal property is segregated for local taxation but no locality is required to impose a tax on such property.

According to Weldon Cooper's 2016 Virginia Local Tax Rates, 44 counties and nine towns imposed a merchants' capital tax either exclusively or in conjunction with a Business, Professional, and Occupational License tax in Fiscal Year 2016. No cities employed this tax.

Legislation passed in 1997 created a separate classification of merchants' capital for pharmaceutical wholesalers. This allows localities that levy a tax on merchants' capital to tax this property at a different rate, provided that the rate does not exceed the tax rate generally applicable to merchants' capital.

Proposal

This bill would create a separate classification for purposes of the local tax on merchants' capital for certain merchants' capital of wholesalers that is reported as inventory and is normally located, in a structure that contains at least 100,000 square feet, with at least 100,000 square feet used solely to store such inventory.

Under the proposed legislation, the rates of tax and the rates of assessment would not be permitted to exceed the rates that are applicable generally to merchants' capital.

The effective date of this bill is not specified.
