SENATE BILL NO. 1288

Offered January 9, 2019

Prefiled January 7, 2019

A BILL to amend and reenact §§ 20-108.1 and 63.2-1918 of the Code of Virginia, relating to child support; incarceration; voluntary unemployment or under-employment.

Patron—Edwards

Referred to Committee for Courts of Justice

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:1. That §§ 20-108.1 and 63.2-1918 of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted as follows:*§ 20-108.1. Determination of child or spousal support.

A. In any proceeding on the issue of determining spousal support, the court shall consider all evidence presented relevant to any issues joined in that proceeding. The court's decision shall be rendered based upon the evidence relevant to each individual case.

B. In any proceeding on the issue of determining child support under this title, Title 16.1, or Title 63.2, the court shall consider all evidence presented relevant to any issues joined in that proceeding. The court's decision in any such proceeding shall be rendered upon the evidence relevant to each individual case. However, there shall be a rebuttable presumption in any judicial or administrative proceeding for child support, including cases involving split custody or shared custody, that the amount of the award that would result from the application of the guidelines set out in § 20-108.2 is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. Liability for support shall be determined retroactively for the period measured from the date that the proceeding was commenced by the filing of an action with any court provided the complainant exercised due diligence in the service of the respondent or, if earlier, the date an order of the Department of Social Services entered pursuant to Title 63.2 and directing payment of support was delivered to the sheriff or process server for service on the obligor.

In order to rebut the presumption, the court shall make written findings in the order, which findings may be incorporated by reference, that the application of such guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case. The finding that rebuts the guidelines shall state the amount of support that would have been required under the guidelines, shall give a justification of why the order varies from the guidelines, and shall be determined by relevant evidence pertaining to the following factors affecting the obligation, the ability of each party to provide child support, and the best interests of the child:

1. Actual monetary support for other family members or former family members;
2. Arrangements regarding custody of the children, including the cost of visitation travel;
3. Imputed income to a party who is voluntarily unemployed or voluntarily under-employed, provided that (i) income may not be imputed to a custodial parent when a child is not in school, child care services are not available, and the cost of such child care services are not included in the computation and provided further, that; (ii) any consideration of imputed income based on a change in a party's employment shall be evaluated with consideration of the good faith and reasonableness of employment decisions made by the party, including to attend and complete an educational or vocational program likely to maintain or increase the party's earning potential; and (iii) a party's incarceration shall not be deemed voluntary unemployment or voluntary under-employment;
4. Any child care costs incurred on behalf of the child or children due to the attendance of a custodial parent in an educational or vocational program likely to maintain or increase the party's earning potential;
5. Debts of either party arising during the marriage for the benefit of the child;
6. Direct payments ordered by the court for maintaining life insurance coverage pursuant to subsection D, education expenses, or other court-ordered direct payments for the benefit of the child;
7. Extraordinary capital gains such as capital gains resulting from the sale of the marital abode;
8. Any special needs of a child resulting from any physical, emotional, or medical condition;
9. Independent financial resources of the child or children;
10. Standard of living for the child or children established during the marriage;
11. Earning capacity, obligations, financial resources, and special needs of each parent;
12. Provisions made with regard to the marital property under § 20-107.3, where said property earns income or has an income-earning potential;
13. Tax consequences to the parties including claims for exemptions, child tax credit, and child care credit for dependent children;

INTRODUCED

SB1288

59 14. A written agreement, stipulation, consent order, or decree between the parties which includes the 60 amount of child support; and

61 15. Such other factors as are necessary to consider the equities for the parents and children.

62 C. In any proceeding under this title, Title 16.1, or Title 63.2 on the issue of determining child
63 support, the court shall have the authority to order either party or both parties to provide health care
64 coverage or cash medical support, as defined in § 63.2-1900, or both, for dependent children if 65 reasonable under all the circumstances and health care coverage for a spouse or former spouse.

66 D. In any proceeding under this title, Title 16.1, or Title 63.2 on the issue of determining child
67 support, the court shall have the authority to order a party to (i) maintain any existing life insurance
68 policy on the life of either party provided the party so ordered has the right to designate a beneficiary
69 and (ii) designate a child or children of the parties as the beneficiary of all or a portion of such life
70 insurance for so long as the party so ordered has a statutory obligation to pay child support for the child
71 or children.

72 E. Except when the parties have otherwise agreed, in any proceeding under this title, Title 16.1, or 73 Title 63.2 on the issue of determining child support, the court shall have the authority to and may, in its 74 discretion, order one party to execute all appropriate tax forms or waivers to grant to the other party the 75 right to take the income tax dependency exemption for any tax year or future years, for any child or 76 children of the parties for federal and state income tax purposes.

77 F. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any amendments to this section shall not be
78 retroactive to a date before the effective date of the amendment, and shall not be the basis for a material 79 change in circumstances upon which a modification of child support may be based.

80 G. Child support payments, whether current or arrears, received by a parent for the benefit of and 81 owed to a child in the parent's custody, whether the payments were ordered under this title, Title 16.1, 82 or Title 63.2, shall not be subject to garnishment. A depository wherein child support payments have 83 been deposited on behalf of and traceable to an individual shall not be required to determine the portion 84 of deposits that are subject to garnishment.

85 H. In any proceeding on the issue of determining child or spousal support or an action for separate
86 maintenance under this title, Title 16.1, or Title 63.2, when the earning capacity, voluntary
87 unemployment, or voluntary under-employment of a party is in controversy, the court in which the 88 action is pending, upon the motion of any party and for good cause shown, may order a party to submit 89 to a vocational evaluation by a vocational expert employed by the moving party, including, but not 90 limited to, any interviews and testing as requested by the expert. The order may permit the attendance of 91 the vocational expert at the deposition of the person to be evaluated. The order shall specify the name
92 and address of the expert, the scope of the evaluation, and shall fix the time for filing the report with 93 the court and furnishing copies to the parties. The court may award costs or fees for the evaluation and 94 the services of the expert at any time during the proceedings. The provisions of this section shall not 95 preclude the applicability of any other rule or law.

96 § 63.2-1918. Administrative establishment of obligations.

97 The Department shall set child support at the amount resulting from computations pursuant to the
98 guideline set out in § 20-108.2 in determining the required monthly support obligation, the amount of
99 support obligation arrearage, if any, and the amount to be paid periodically against such arrearage. There
100 shall be a rebuttable presumption that the amount of the award which would result from the application
101 of the guidelines is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. In order to rebut the presumption
102 the Department shall make written findings in its order that the application of the guidelines would be 103 unjust or inappropriate in a particular case as determined by relevant evidence pertaining to support for 104 other children in the household or other children for whom any administrative or court order exists, or 105 relevant evidence pertaining to imputed income to a person who is voluntarily unemployed or who fails
106 to provide verification of income upon request of the Department; provided that income may not be
107 imputed to the custodial parent because (i) a child is not regularly attending school, (ii) child care
108 services are not available, or (iii) the cost of such child care services are not added to the basic child
109 support obligation. In addition, a party's incarceration shall not be deemed voluntary unemployment or
110 voluntary under-employment. Additional factors that may lead to rebuttal of the presumption shall be 111 determined by Department regulation.
