

1 VIRGINIA ACTS OF ASSEMBLY — CHAPTER

2 An Act for the relief of Gary Linwood Bush.

3 [S 1477]

4 Approved

5 Whereas, Gary Linwood Bush (Mr. Bush) spent almost 11 years in prison within the Virginia
6 Department of Corrections for crimes he did not commit; and7 Whereas, on October 6, 2006, a man wearing a baseball cap robbed the Bank of Southside Virginia
8 on Crater Road in Petersburg, Virginia; and9 Whereas, a bank teller and a bank manager both erroneously identified Mr. Bush as that man, with 10 those identifications based on each glimpsing that man for a few seconds while he was looking down;
11 and12 Whereas, on November 8, 2006, a man robbed a BB&T bank at the Crossings Shopping Center in 13 Prince George County; and14 Whereas, a bank teller erroneously identified Mr. Bush as the man who robbed the bank, although 15 she remembered that the man was wearing a baseball cap, and therefore she could only see the lower 16 part of his face; and17 Whereas, a construction worker who was working in the BB&T at the time of the robbery testified 18 that he had seen Mr. Bush around town before and also erroneously identified Mr. Bush as the robber; 19 and20 Whereas, Mr. Bush denied any involvement in either robbery and testified at both trials that he was 21 in other locations at the time of each robbery; and22 Whereas, Mr. Bush provided a palm print sample that did not match the palm print found on the 23 note used during the BB&T robbery; and24 Whereas, Mr. Bush also provided a handwriting sample that could not be identified as the same 25 handwriting found on the note used during the BB&T robbery; and26 Whereas, in 2007, Mr. Bush was convicted of both robberies and sentenced to a combined 12 years'
27 incarceration for the crimes; and28 Whereas, on May 17, 2016, Christian Amos called the Prince George County police and asked to 29 speak with someone about multiple bank robberies; and30 Whereas, Christian Amos told a detective that he had robbed both the Bank of Southside Virginia in 31 Petersburg and the BB&T in Prince George; and32 Whereas, Christian Amos was unaware that another person had been convicted and incarcerated for 33 those robberies; and34 Whereas, Christian Amos at that time provided numerous details that matched those of the November
35 8, 2006, robbery of the BB&T in Prince George; and36 Whereas, Christian Amos provided a handwriting sample that was strikingly similar to the 37 handwriting found on the note used in the BB&T robbery; and38 Whereas, Christian Amos pleaded guilty to the BB&T robbery on November 10, 2016, and his plea
39 was accepted by the court; and40 Whereas, Christian Amos was sentenced to 50 years' incarceration, with all but five years suspended, 41 for the BB&T robbery; and42 Whereas, on June 30, 2017, Christian Amos admitted in a declaration that he also committed the 43 October 6, 2006, robbery of the Bank of Southside Virginia and provided accurate details of that 44 robbery; and45 Whereas, Mr. Bush filed petitions for actual innocence on December 15, 2017, based on newly 46 discovered evidence and developments regarding the robberies in the form of the confession, guilty plea, 47 conviction, and declaration of Christian Amos; and48 Whereas, the Commonwealth of Virginia did not contest Mr. Bush's petitions before the Court of 49 Appeals of Virginia and instead agreed that his petitions should be granted; and50 Whereas, the Court of Appeals conducted an independent review of the petitions and evidence,
51 notwithstanding the Commonwealth's concession of their merit; and52 Whereas, the Court of Appeals found that Mr. Bush had proven his actual innocence claim by clear
53 and convincing evidence as required by subsection A of § 19.2-327.11 of the Code of Virginia; and54 Whereas, on May 22, 2018, the Court of Appeals granted both of Mr. Bush's petitions and issued 55 writs of actual innocence for both robberies; and

56 Whereas, the Court of Appeals directed the circuit courts to immediately enter orders of 57 expungement for both robberies; and

58 Whereas, Mr. Bush served almost the entirety of a combined 12-year sentence for robberies he did 59 not commit; and

60 Whereas, Mr. Bush, as a result of his wrongful incarceration, lost almost 11 years of his freedom and 61 countless life experiences and opportunities, including family relations, the opportunity to further his 62 education, and the opportunity to earn potential income from gainful employment during his years of 63 incarceration; and

64 Whereas, Mr. Bush has no other means to obtain adequate relief except by action of this body; now, 65 therefore,
