67 § 10.1-658. State interest in flood control.

68 A. The General Assembly declares that storm events and rising tidal waters cause recurrent flooding
69 of Virginia's land resources and result in the loss of life, damage to property, unsafe and unsanitary
70 conditions and the disruption of commerce and government services, placing at risk the health, safety
71 and welfare of those citizens living in flood-prone areas of the Commonwealth. Flood waters disregard 72 jurisdictional boundaries, and the public interest requires the management of flood-prone areas in a 73 manner which prevents injuries to persons, damage to property and pollution of state waters.

74 B. The General Assembly, therefore, supports and encourages those measures which prevent, mitigate 75 and alleviate the effects of stormwater surges and flooding, and declares that the expenditure of public 76 funds and any obligations incurred in the development of flood control and other civil works projects, 77 the benefits of which may accrue to any county, municipality or region in the Commonwealth, are 78 necessary expenses of local and state government.
