VIRGINIA TECHNOLOGY COUNCIL.

§ 9-145.50. Council established; duties.

The Virginia Technology Council is hereby established within the executive branch and shall be referred to in this chapter as the Council. The Council shall perform the following functions:

- 1. Work with the Commonwealth to develop and implement a statewide technology blueprint;*
- 2. Be an advocate for technology-related issues at all levels of government and within the business community;*
- 3. Enhance the programs of local and regional technology councils, and encourage the establishment of additional local and regional councils;*
- 4. Work with local and regional councils in their effort to promote programs of research, development, investment, and marketing for technology industries throughout the Commonwealth;*
- 5. Strengthen the technology business sector and position Virginia as a leader in this industry so vital to economic growth; and*
- 6. Work with the Virginia World Technology Fair Commission to develop a comprehensive technology infrastructure plan.*

§ 9-145.51. Membership; terms; chairman and vice chairman; staff.

A. The Council shall be composed of the following eighteen members: one member of the House of Delegates to be appointed by the Speaker of the House of Delegates, one member of the Senate to be appointed by the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, the Secretary of Commerce and Trade, the Secretary of Administration, the President of the Center for Innovative Technology, and a representative of the Virginia Chamber of Commerce. After consultation with the regional technology councils and regional Chambers of Commerce, the Governor shall appoint twelve members representing the geographic diversity of the Commonwealth.

B. The Council shall elect a chairman and a vice chairman from among its members and develop bylaws that govern the terms served by the members.

C. Staff support for the Council shall be provided by the Northern Virginia Technology Council. There shall be no direct costs to the Commonwealth from the Council, and funding shall be secured from private sources.
