HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 676

Offered January 23, 1995

Commending the Fairfax County Branch of the NAACP on the occasion of its 80th anniversary.

Patrons—Scott, Albo, Almand, Armstrong, Ball, Barlow, Bennett, Brickley, Callahan, Christian, Clement, Cohen, Connally, Cooper, Copeland, Councill, Cranwell, Crittenden, Croshaw, Cunningham, Darner, Davies, DeBoer, Diamonstein, Dickinson, Dillard, Fisher, Grayson, Hall, Harris, Hull, Jackson, Johnson, Jones, D.C., Jones, J.C., Keating, May, Mayer, McClure, Melvin, Mims, Moore, Moss, Murphy, O'Brien, Phillips, Plum, Puller, Robinson, Spruill, Stump, Thomas, Van Landingham, Van Yahres and Woodrum; Senators: Barry, Calhoun, Gartlan, Holland, E.M., Houck, Howell, Lambert, Lucas, Maxwell, Miller, Y.B., Saslaw, Waddell and Woods

WHEREAS, in 1915, Joseph B. Tinner of Falls Church and eight other men organized to oppose the adoption of an ordinance promoting residential segregation in Falls Church; and

WHEREAS, organizing as a chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), the nine men, with the assistance of NAACP attorneys from Washington, D.C., succeeded in convincing the Falls Church Town Council that the ordinance was unconstitutional, and the Council abandoned the ordinance; and

WHEREAS, with this notable victory, the Fairfax County Branch of the NAACP, the first rural branch in the organization's history, was born; and

WHEREAS, in the 80 years since, the Fairfax County Branch of the NAACP has continually challenged the legacy of segregation and the principle of exclusion that spurred its founding; and

WHEREAS, the Fairfax County Branch worked to improve school facilities for black children, played a leading role in bringing about desegregation of the schools in Fairfax County, and continues to strive to overcome powerful forces that have opposed and resisted its efforts; and

WHEREAS, for 80 years, the Fairfax County Branch of the NAACP has worked to promote the principles of equality and justice for all races in Fairfax County and throughout the Commonwealth; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring, That the General Assembly hereby commend the Fairfax County Branch of the NAACP on the occasion of the 80th anniversary of its founding; and, be it

RESOLVED FURTHER, That the Clerk of the House of Delegates prepare a copy of this resolution for presentation to the Fairfax County Branch of the NAACP in honor of its 80 years of significant achievement and with the General Assembly's best wishes for the future.
