6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:7 1. That §§ 2.1-346 and 2.1-346.1 of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted as follows:

8 § 2.1-346. Proceedings for enforcement of chapter.

9 Any person, including the attorney for the Commonwealth acting in his official or individual 10 capacity, denied the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter may proceed to enforce such rights
11 and privileges by filing a petition for mandamus or injunction, supported by an affidavit showing good 12 cause, addressed to the general district court or the court of record of the county or city from which the 13 public body has been elected or appointed to serve and in which such rights and privileges were so 14 denied. Failure by any person to request and receive notice of the time and place of meetings as 15 provided in § 2.1-343 shall not preclude any person from enforcing his or her rights and privileges 16 conferred by this chapter.

17 Any petition alleging denial of rights and privileges conferred by this chapter by a board, bureau, 18 commission, authority, district or agency of the state government or by a standing or other committee of 19 the General Assembly, shall be addressed to the General District Court or the Circuit Court of the 20 residence of the aggrieved party or of the City of Richmond. A petition for mandamus or injunction 21 under this chapter shall be heard within seven days of the date when the same is made. However, any 22 petition made outside of the regular terms of the circuit court of a county which is included in a judicial 23 circuit with another county or counties, the hearing on the petition shall be given precedence on the 24 docket of such court over all cases which are not otherwise given precedence by law. The petition shall 25 allege with reasonable specificity the circumstances of the denial of the rights and privileges conferred 26 by this chapter. A single instance of denial of the rights and privileges conferred by this chapter shall be 27 sufficient to invoke the remedies granted herein. If the court finds the denial to be in violation of the 28 provisions of this chapter, the petitioner shall be entitled to recover reasonable costs and attorney's fees 29 from the public body if the petitioner substantially prevails on the merits of the case, unless special 30 circumstances would make an award unjust. In making this determination, a court may consider, among 31 other things, the reliance of a public body on an opinion of the Attorney General or a decision of a 32 court that substantially supports the public body's position. The court may also impose appropriate 33 sanctions in favor of the public body as provided in § 8.01-271.1.

34 § 2.1-346.1. Violations and penalties.

35 In a proceeding commenced against members of public bodies under § 2.1-346 for a violation of 36 §§ 2.1-342, 2.1-343, 2.1-343.1, 2.1-344 or § 2.1-344.1, the court, if it finds that a violation was willfully
37 and knowingly made, shall impose upon such member in his individual capacity, whether a writ of 38 mandamus or injunctive relief is awarded or not, a civil penalty of not less than $25 nor more than 39 $1,000, which amount shall be paid into the State Literary Fund. For a second or subsequent violation, 40 such civil penalty shall be not less than $250 nor more than $1,000.
