100 A. Sixty days after the death of a decedent, any person indebted to the decedent or having possession

102 belonging to the decedent may make payment of the indebtedness or deliver the tangible personal 103 property or an instrument evidencing a debt, obligation, stock or chose in action to a person claiming to 104 be the successor of the decedent upon being presented an affidavit made by or on behalf of the 105 successor stating that:

- 106 1. The value of the entire personal probate estate, wherever located, does not exceed ~~$5,000~~ ~~$10,000~~;
- 107 2. At least sixty days have elapsed since the death of the decedent;
- 108 3. No application for the appointment of a personal representative is pending or has been granted in 109 any jurisdiction;
- 110 4. The will, if any, was duly probated and the list of heirs required by § 64.1-134 was duly filed;
111 and

- 112 5. The claiming successor is entitled to payment or delivery of the property, and the basis upon

114 B. A transfer agent of any security shall change the registered ownership on the books of a 115 corporation from the decedent to the successor upon the presentation of an affidavit as provided in 116 subsection A.

117 § 64.1-151.2. Exempt property.

118 In addition to the family allowance, the surviving spouse of a decedent who was domiciled in this
119 Commonwealth is entitled from the estate to value not exceeding ~~$3,500~~ ~~$10,000~~ in excess of any 120 security interests therein in household furniture, automobiles, furnishings, appliances and personal 121 effects. If there is no surviving spouse, the minor children of the decedent are entitled in equal shares to the same value. If encumbered chattels are selected and if the value in excess of security interests, plus that of other exempt property, is less than ~~$3,500~~ $10,000, or if there is not ~~$3,500~~ $10,000 worth of exempt property in the estate, the spouse or minor children are entitled to other assets of the estate, if any, to the extent necessary to make up the ~~$3,500~~ $10,000 value. Rights to exempt property and assets needed to make up a deficiency of exempt property have priority over all claims against the estate, but not over the family allowance.

The right to exempt property is in addition to any benefit or share passing to the surviving spouse or minor children by the will of the decedent, by intestate succession, or by way of elective share.

§ 64.1-151.4. Source, determination and documentation of family allowance, exempt property, and homestead allowance.

If the estate is otherwise sufficient, property specifically bequeathed or devised shall not be used to satisfy rights to exempt property and homestead allowance. Subject to this restriction, the surviving spouse or the guardian of the minor children may select property of the estate as exempt property and homestead allowance. The personal representative may make these selections if the surviving spouse or the guardian of the minor children is unable or fails to do so within a reasonable time, or if there is no guardian of the minor children. The personal representative may execute a deed of distribution to establish the ownership of property taken as homestead allowance or exempt property, which deed, if executed, shall: (i) describe the property with reasonable certainty, and (ii) state the value of each asset included therein. The personal representative may determine the family allowance in a lump sum not exceeding ~~$6,000~~ $10,000, or periodic installments not exceeding ~~$500~~ $1,000 per month for one year; and he may disburse funds of the estate in payment of the family allowance and any part of the exempt property or homestead allowance, payable in cash.

The personal representative or any interested person aggrieved by any selection, determination, payment, proposed payment or failure to act under this section may petition the circuit court for appropriate relief, which relief may provide a family allowance larger or smaller than that which the personal representative determined or could have determined. Such petition may be ex parte; provided, however, that the court in its discretion may require such notice to and the convening of interested parties as it may deem proper in each case.
