A BILL to amend and reenact $\S \S 20-108.1$ and $20-108.2$ of the Code of Virginia, relating to determination of child support; imputed income.

> Patrons—Earley, Norment and Quayle
> Referred to the Committee for Courts of Justice

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

1. That $\S \S \mathbf{2 0 - 1 0 8 . 1}$ and $\mathbf{2 0 - 1 0 8 . 2}$ of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted as follows:
§ 20-108.1. Determination of child or spousal support.
A. In any proceeding on the issue of determining spousal support, the court shall consider all evidence presented relevant to any issues joined in that proceeding. The court's decision shall be rendered based upon the evidence relevant to each individual case.
B. In any proceeding on the issue of determining child support under this title or Title 16.1 or 63.1, the court shall consider all evidence presented relevant to any issues joined in that proceeding. The court's decision in any such proceeding shall be rendered upon the evidence relevant to each individual case. However, there shall be a rebuttable presumption in any judicial or administrative proceeding for child support, including cases involving split custody or shared custody, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines set out in § 20-108.2 is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. In order to rebut the presumption, the court shall make written findings in the order, which findings may be incorporated by reference, that the application of such guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case. The finding that rebuts the guidelines shall state the amount of support that would have been required under the guidelines, shall give a justification of why the order varies from the guidelines, and shall be determined by relevant evidence pertaining to the following factors affecting the obligation, the ability of each party to provide child support, and the best interests of the child:
2. Actual monetary support for other children, other family members or former family members;
3. Arrangements regarding custody of the children;
4. Imputed income to a party whe is voluntarily unemployed of voluntarily under-employed; provided that income may not be imputed to the eustodial parent when a ehild is not in sehool, child eare services are not available and the cost of such ehild eare services are not included in the eomputation;
5. Debts of either party arising during the marriage for the benefit of the child;

5 4. Debts incurred for production of income;
6 5. Direct payments ordered by the court for health care coverage, maintaining life insurance coverage pursuant to subsection D, education expenses, or other court-ordered direct payments for the benefit of the child and costs related to the provision of health care coverage pursuant to subdivision 7 of § 20-60.3;

76 . Extraordinary capital gains such as capital gains resulting from the sale of the marital abode;
8 7. Age, physical and mental condition of the child or children, including extraordinary medical or dental expenses, and child-care expenses;

9 8. Independent financial resources, if any, of the child or children;
10 9. Standard of living for the family established during the marriage;
14 10. Earning capacity, obligations and needs, and financial resources of each parent;
12 11. Education and training of the parties and the ability and opportunity of the parties to secure such education and training;

13 12. Contributions, monetary and nonmonetary, of each party to the well-being of the family;
14 13. Provisions made with regard to the marital property under § 20-107.3;
15 14. Tax consequences to the parties regarding claims for dependent children and child care expenses;

16 15. A written agreement between the parties which includes the amount of child support;
17 16. A pendente lite decree, which includes the amount of child support, agreed to by both parties or by counsel for the parties; and 1817: Such other factors, including tax consequences to each party, as are necessary to consider the equities for the parents and children.

C. In any proceeding under this title or Title 16.1 or Title 63.1 on the issue of determining child support, the court shall have the authority to order a party to provide health care coverage, as defined in § 63.1-250, for dependent children if reasonable under all the circumstances and health care coverage for a spouse or former spouse.
D. In any proceeding under this title, Title 16.1 or Title 63.1 on the issue of determining child support, the court shall have the authority to order a party to (i) maintain any existing life insurance policy on the life of either party provided the party so ordered has the right to designate a beneficiary and (ii) designate a child or children of the parties as the beneficiary of all or a portion of such life insurance for so long as the party so ordered has a statutory obligation to pay child support for the child or children.
§ 20-108.2. Guideline for determination of child support.
A. There shall be a rebuttable presumption in any judicial or administrative proceeding for child support under this title or Title 16.1 or 63.1, including cases involving split custody or shared custody, that the amount of the award which would result from the application of the guidelines set forth in this section is the correct amount of child support to be awarded. In order to rebut the presumption, the court shall make written findings in the order as set out in § 20-108.1, which findings may be incorporated by reference, that the application of the guidelines would be unjust or inappropriate in a particular case as determined by relevant evidence pertaining to the factors set out in §§ 20-107.2 and 20-108.1. The Department of Social Services shall set child support at the amount resulting from computations using the guidelines set out in this section pursuant to the authority granted to it in Chapter 13 (§ 63.1-249 et seq.) of Title 63.1 and subject to the provisions of § 63.1-264.2.
B. For purposes of application of the guideline, a basic child support obligation shall be computed using the schedule set out below. For combined monthly gross income amounts falling between amounts shown in the schedule, basic child support obligation amounts shall be extrapolated. "Number of children" shall mean the number of children for whom the parents share joint legal responsibility and for whom support is being sought.

include, but not be limited to, income from salaries, wages, commissions, royalties, bonuses, dividends, severance pay, pensions, interest, trust income, annuities, capital gains, social security benefits except as listed below, workers' compensation benefits, unemployment insurance benefits, disability insurance benefits, veterans' benefits, spousal support, rental income, gifts, prizes or, awards and imputed income determined as provided in this subsection. Gross income shall be subject to deduction of reasonable business expenses for persons with income from self-employment, a partnership, or a closely held business. "Gross income" shall not include benefits from public assistance programs as defined in § 63.1-87, federal supplemental security income benefits, or child support received. For purposes of this subsection, spousal support included in gross income shall be limited to spousal support paid pursuant to a pre-existing order or written agreement and spousal support shall be deducted from the gross income of the payor when paid pursuant to a pre-existing order or written agreement between the parties to the present proceeding.

The court or Department may impute income to any party who is voluntarily unemployed or voluntarily underemployed upon consideration of the need to maintain an adequate level of financial support for the children and the need to promote the Commonwealth's public policy of assuring minor children of frequent and continuing contact with both parents. Income may not be imputed to a custodial parent when a child is not in school or when child care services are not available or are not added to the basic child support obligation pursuant to subsection $F$.

If a person is voluntarily unemployed or voluntarily underemployed, without just cause, or fails to provide verification of income upon request of the court or the Department, potential income shall be determined by (i) an evaluation of employment potential, probable earnings level based upon prior work history, occupational qualifications, and prevailing job opportunities and earnings levels within the locality or state of residence of the party to whom income is being imputed or (ii) application of the minimum wage if no work history is available and the party has no vocational or occupational training and no higher education. Written findings shall be made in the order providing the method and reasoning used to impute the income including evidence of the basis for imputed income if the basis is other than the minimum wage.
D. Any extraordinary medical and dental expenses for treatment of the child or children shall be added to the basic child support obligation. For purposes of this section, extraordinary medical and dental expenses are uninsured expenses in excess of $$ 100$ for a single illness or condition and shall include but not be limited to eyeglasses, prescription medication, prostheses, and mental health services whether provided by a social worker, psychologist, psychiatrist, or counselor.
E. Any costs for health care coverage as defined in § 63.1-250, when actually being paid by a parent, to the extent such costs are directly allocable to the child or children, and which are the extra costs of covering the child or children beyond whatever coverage the parent providing the coverage would otherwise have, shall be added to the basic child support obligation.
F. Any child-care costs incurred on behalf of the child or children due to employment of the custodial parent shall be added to the basic child support obligation. Child-care costs shall not exceed the amount required to provide quality care from a licensed source. Where appropriate, the court shall consider the willingness and availability of the noncustodial parent to provide child care personally in determining whether child-care costs are necessary or excessive.
G. 1. Except in cases involving split custody or shared custody, a total monthly child support obligation shall be established by adding (i) the monthly basic child support obligation, as determined from the schedule contained in subsection B of this section, (ii) all extraordinary medical expenses, (iii) costs for health care coverage to the extent allowable by subsection E, and (iv) work-related child-care costs and taking into consideration all the factors set forth in subsection B of § 20-108.1. The total monthly child support obligation shall be divided between the parents in the same proportion as their monthly gross incomes bear to their monthly combined gross income. The monthly obligation of each parent shall be computed by multiplying each parent's percentage of the parents' monthly combined gross income by the total monthly child support obligation.

However, the monthly obligation of the noncustodial parent shall be reduced by the cost for health care coverage to the extent allowable by subsection E when paid directly by the noncustodial parent.
2. In cases involving split custody, the amount of child support to be paid shall be the difference between the amounts owed by each parent as a noncustodial parent, computed in accordance with subdivision 1 of this subsection, with the noncustodial parent owing the larger amount paying the difference to the other parent.

For the purpose of this section and § $20-108.1$, split custody shall be limited to those situations where each parent has physical custody of a child or children born of the parents, born of either parent and adopted by the other parent or adopted by both parents. For the purposes of calculating a child support obligation where split custody exists, a separate family unit exists for each parent, and child support for that family unit shall be calculated upon the number of children in that family unit who are born of the parents, born of either parent and adopted by the other parent or adopted by both parents.

Where split custody exists, a parent is a custodial parent to the children in that parent's family unit and is a noncustodial parent to the children in the other parent's family unit.
3. In cases involving shared custody, the amount of child support to be paid is the difference between the amounts owed by each parent to the other parent, with the parent owing the larger amount paying the difference to the other parent.

To compute the monthly amount to be paid by one parent to the other parent, the following calculations shall be made:
(a) The "basic child support obligation" of each parent shall be the "total shared support" multiplied by the other parent's "custody share." The "total shared support" of both parties equals statutory guideline amount determined pursuant to subsection B for the combined income of the parties and the number of shared children multiplied by 1.25 . A parent's "custody share" equals the number of days that parent has physical custody of a shared child per year divided by the number of days in the year.
(b) To each parent's "basic child support obligation" shall be added the other parent's costs of health care coverage, to the extent allowable by subsection E, and the other parent's work-related child care costs to the extent allowable by subsection F .
(c) The obligation of each parent to the other shall be then computed by multiplying each parent's percentage of the parents' monthly combined gross income by the support obligation obtained in subdivision G 3 (b).

The shared custody rules set forth herein apply when each parent has physical custody of a child or children born of the parties, born of either parent and adopted by the other parent, or adopted by both parents, for more than 110 days of the year. Any calculation under this subdivision shall not create or reduce a support obligation to an amount which seriously impairs the custodial parent's ability to maintain minimal adequate housing and provide other basic necessities for the child.
H. The Secretary of Health and Human Resources shall ensure that the guideline set out in this section is reviewed by July 1, 1990, and every four years thereafter, by a panel which includes representatives of the courts, the executive branch, the General Assembly, the bar, custodial and noncustodial parents and child advocates. The panel shall determine the adequacy of the guideline for the determination of appropriate awards for the support of children by considering current research and data on the cost of and expenditures necessary for rearing children, and any other resources it deems relevant to such review. The panel shall report its findings to the General Assembly before it next convenes following such review.
