3 effective, relating to appeals from juvenile and domestic courts.

4 [S 572]

5 Approved

6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

7 1. That § 16.1-297 of the Code of Virginia as it is effective and as it may become effective is 8 amended and reenacted as follows:

9 § 16.1-297. Final judgment; copy filed with juvenile court; proceeding may be remanded to juvenile 10 court.

11 Upon the rendition of final judgment upon an appeal from the juvenile and domestic relations district 12 court, the circuit court shall cause a copy of its judgment to be filed with the juvenile court within
13 twenty-one days of entry of its order, which shall thereupon become the judgment of the juvenile court.
14 In the event such circuit court does not dismiss the proceedings or discharge such child or adult, the 15 circuit court may remand the child or adult to the jurisdiction of the juvenile court for its supervision
16 and care, under the terms of its order or judgment, and thereafter such child or adult shall be and remain
17 under the jurisdiction of the juvenile court in the same manner as if such court had rendered the 18 judgment in the first instance.

19 § 16.1-297. (Delayed effective date) Final judgment; copy filed with family court; proceeding may be 20 remanded to family court.

21 Upon the rendition of final judgment upon an appeal from the family court, the circuit court shall 22 cause a copy of its judgment to be filed with the family court within twenty-one days of entry of its
23 order, which shall thereupon become the judgment of the family court. In the event such circuit court
24 does not dismiss the proceedings or discharge such child or adult, the circuit court may remand the child
25 or adult to the jurisdiction of the family court for its supervision and care, under the terms of its order
26 or judgment, and thereafter such child or adult shall be and remain under the jurisdiction of the family
27 court in the same manner as if such court had rendered the judgment in the first instance.
