

1 VIRGINIA ACTS OF ASSEMBLY — CHAPTER

2 An Act to amend and reenact §§ 37.1-67.01 and 37.1-67.1 of the Code of Virginia, relating to 3 involuntary detention.

4 [H 681]

5 Approved

6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:7 1. That §§ 37.1-67.01 and 37.1-67.1 of the Code of Virginia are amended and reenacted as follows:

8 § 37.1-67.01. Emergency custody; issuance and execution of order.

9 Based upon probable cause to believe that the person is mentally ill and in need of hospitalization
10 and that the person presents an imminent danger to self or others as a result of mental illness, or is so 11 seriously mentally ill as to be substantially unable to care for self, any magistrate may, upon the sworn 12 petition of any responsible person or upon his own motion, issue an emergency custody order requiring 13 any person within his judicial district who is incapable of volunteering or unwilling to volunteer for 14 treatment to be taken into custody and transported to a convenient location to be evaluated by a person 15 designated by the community services board who is skilled in the diagnosis and treatment of mental 16 illness and who has completed a certification program approved by the Department in order to assess 17 the need for hospitalization. A law-enforcement officer who, based upon his observation or the reliable 18 reports of others, has probable cause to believe that a person meets the criteria for emergency custody as 19 stated in this section may take that person into custody and transport that person to an appropriate 20 location to assess the need for hospitalization without prior authorization. Such evaluation shall be 21 conducted immediately. The person shall remain in custody until a temporary detention order is issued 22 or until the person is released, but in no event shall the period of custody exceed four hours. A 23 law-enforcement officer may lawfully go to or be sent beyond the territorial limits of the county, city or 24 town in which he serves to any point in the Commonwealth for the purpose of executing an order for 25 emergency custody pursuant to this section. Nothing herein shall preclude a law-enforcement officer 26 from obtaining emergency medical treatment or further medical evaluation at any time for a person in 27 his custody as provided in this section.

28 If an order of emergency custody is not executed within four hours of its issuance, the order shall be 29 void and shall be returned unexecuted to the office of the clerk of the issuing court or, if such office is 30 not open, to any judge or magistrate thereof.

31 § 37.1-67.1. Involuntary temporary detention; issuance and execution of order.

32 For the purposes of this section, a designee of a community services board is defined as an examiner 33 able to provide an independent examination of the person who is not related by blood or marriage to the 34 person, who has no financial interest in the admission or treatment of the person, who has no investment 35 interest in the hospital detaining or admitting the person under this article and, except for employees of 36 state hospitals and of the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, who is not employed by such hospital.
37 For purposes of this section, investment interest means the ownership or holding of an equity or debt
38 security, including, but not limited to, shares of stock in a corporation, interests or units of a partnership, 39 bonds, debentures, notes, or other equity or debt instruments.

40 A magistrate may, upon the advice of, and only after an in-person evaluation by, an employee of the 41 local community services board or its designee who is skilled in the assessment and treatment of mental 42 illness and who has completed a certification program approved by the Department, issue an order of 43 temporary detention if it appears from all evidence readily available that the person is mentally ill and in 44 need of hospitalization and that the person presents an imminent danger to self or others as a result of 45 mental illness, or is so seriously mentally ill as to be substantially unable to care for self, and the person
46 is incapable of volunteering or unwilling to volunteer for treatment. Such order may include 47 transportation of the person to such other medical facility as may be necessary to obtain emergency 48 medical evaluation or treatment prior to placement.

49 A magistrate may issue such order of temporary detention without an emergency custody order
50 proceeding. A magistrate may issue an order of temporary detention without a prior in-person evaluation 51 if (i) the person has been personally examined within the previous seventy-two hours by an employee of 52 the local community services board or its designee who is skilled in the assessment and treatment of 53 mental illness and who has completed a certification program approved by the Department or (ii) there 54 is a significant physical, psychological or medical risk, to the person or to others, associated with 55 conducting such evaluation.

56 An employee of the local community services board or its designee shall determine the facility of temporary detention for all individuals detained pursuant to this section. The facility shall be identified on the prescreening report and indicated on the temporary detention order. The Board of Medical Assistance Services shall, by regulation, establish a reasonable rate per day of inpatient care for temporary detention. The institution or other place of detention shall be approved pursuant to regulations of the Board of Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse Services. The employee of the community services board or its designee who is conducting the evaluation pursuant to this section shall determine, prior to the issuance of the temporary detention order, the insurance status of the person. Except as provided herein for defendants requiring hospitalization in accordance with subdivision A 2 of § 19.2-169.6, such person shall not be detained in a jail or other place of confinement for persons charged with criminal offenses.

A law-enforcement officer may lawfully go to or be sent beyond the territorial limits of the county, city, or town in which he serves to any point in the Commonwealth for the purpose of executing any order for temporary detention pursuant to this section. The duration of temporary detention shall not exceed forty-eight hours prior to a hearing. If the forty-eight-hour period herein specified terminates on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, such person may be detained, as herein provided, until the next day which is not a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, but in no event may he be detained for longer than seventy-two hours or ninety-six hours when such legal holiday occurs on a Monday or Friday. For purposes of this section, a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday shall be deemed to include the time period up to 8:00 a.m. of the next day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday. Nothing herein shall preclude a law-enforcement officer from obtaining emergency medical treatment or further medical evaluation at any time for a person in his custody as provided in this section.

In any case in which temporary detention is ordered pursuant to this section upon petition of a person having custody of a defendant in accordance with subdivision A 2 of § 19.2-169.6, the magistrate executing the order of temporary detention shall place such person in a hospital designated by § 19.2-169.6 B, or if such facility is not available, the defendant shall be detained in a jail or other place of confinement for persons charged with criminal offenses and shall be transferred to such hospital as soon as possible thereafter. The hearing shall be held, upon notice to the attorney for the defendant, either (i) before the court having jurisdiction over the defendant's case, or (ii) before a judge as defined in § 37.1-1 in accordance with the provisions of § 37.1-67.4, in which case the defendant shall be represented by counsel as specified in § 37.1-67.3. In any case in which temporary detention is ordered pursuant to this section upon petition for involuntary commitment of a minor, the petition shall be filed and the hearing scheduled in accordance with the provisions of § 16.1-341.

On such petition and prior to a hearing as authorized in § 37.1-67.3 or § 16.1-341, the judge may release such person on his personal recognizance or bond set by the judge if it appears from all evidence readily available that such release will not pose an imminent danger to himself or others. In the case of a minor, the judge may release the minor to his parent. The director of the hospital in which the person is detained may release such person prior to a hearing as authorized in § 37.1-67.3 or § 16.1-341 if it appears, based on an evaluation conducted by the psychiatrist or clinical psychologist treating the person, that the person would not present an imminent danger to self or others if released.

If an order of temporary detention is not executed within twenty-four hours of its issuance, or within such shorter period as is specified in the order, the order shall be void and shall be returned unexecuted to the office of the clerk of the issuing court or if such office is not open, to any judge or magistrate thereof. Subsequent orders may be issued upon the original petition within ninety-six hours after the petition is filed. However, a magistrate must again obtain the advice of an employee of the local community services board or its designee who is skilled in the diagnosis or treatment of mental illness and who has completed a certification program approved by the Department prior to issuing a subsequent order upon the original petition. Any petition for which no order of temporary detention or other process in connection therewith is served on the subject of the petition within ninety-six hours after the petition is filed shall be void and shall be returned to the office of the clerk of the issuing court.

The chief judge of each general district court shall establish and require that a magistrate, as provided by this section, be available seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day, for the purpose of performing the duties established by this section. Each community services board shall provide to each general district court and magistrate's office within its jurisdiction a list of its employees and designees who are available to perform the evaluations required herein.

2. That the provisions of this act shall become effective on January 1, 1999.
