2005 SESSION

HOUSE SUBSTITUTE

<ul> <li>benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.</li> <li>Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:</li> <li>1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwal not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and</li> </ul>
AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE  (Proposed by the House Committee on Health, Welfare and Institutions on January 25, 2005)  (Patron Prior to Substitute—Delegate Jones, D.C.)  A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that curred benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.  Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:  1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwing not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from		051755364
(Proposed by the House Committee on Health, Welfare and Institutions on January 25, 2005)  (Patron Prior to Substitute—Delegate Jones, D.C.)  A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that curred benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.  Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:  1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwing not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from	1	HOUSE BILL NO. 1963
on January 25, 2005)  (Patron Prior to Substitute—Delegate Jones, D.C.)  A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that curred benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.  Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:  1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwal not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from	2	AMENDMENT IN THE NATURE OF A SUBSTITUTE
(Patron Prior to Substitute—Delegate Jones, D.C.)  A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that current benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.  Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:  1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwal not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from	3	(Proposed by the House Committee on Health, Welfare and Institutions
<ul> <li>A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that current benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.</li> <li>Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:</li> <li>I. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwal not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from</li> </ul>	4	on January 25, 2005)
<ul> <li>A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that current benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.</li> <li>Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:</li> <li>I. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwal not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from</li> </ul>	5	(Patron Prior to Substitute—Delegate Jones, D.C.)
benefits structure does not provide incentives for the break-up of families.  Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:  1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonw not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from	6	A BILL requiring the Department and State Board of Social Services to ensure that current social
<ul> <li>9 1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State</li> <li>10 Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonw</li> <li>11 not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and</li> <li>12 Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from</li> </ul>	7
<ul> <li>Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwood not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from</li> </ul>	8	Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:
<ul> <li>Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwood not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from</li> </ul>	9	1. § 1. Unless otherwise prohibited by federal law or regulation, the Department and State Board of
12 Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from		Social Services shall ensure that the current social services benefits structure in the Commonwealth does
12 Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from		not provide economic or other incentives for the break-up of families. The Department and the State
	12	Board of Social Services shall, to the extent possible, eliminate such incentives from program
	13	