6 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

7 1. That § 46.2-112 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

8 § 46.2-112. Tampering with odometer; penalty; civil liability.

9 A. It shall be unlawful to knowingly cause, either personally or through an agent, the changing,
10 tampering with, disconnection, or nonconnection of any odometer or similar device designed to show by 11 numbers or words the distance which a motor vehicle has traveled or the use it has sustained.

12 B. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell a motor vehicle if he knows or should reasonably know 13 that the odometer or similar device of the motor vehicle has been changed, tampered with, or 14 disconnected to reflect a lesser mileage or use, unless he gives clear and unequivocal notice of such 15 tampering, etc., or of his reasonable belief thereof, to the purchaser in writing prior to the sale. In a 16 prosecution under this subsection, evidence that a person or his agent has changed, tampered with,
17 disconnected, or failed to connect an odometer or similar device of a motor vehicle shall constitute 18 prima facie evidence of knowledge thereof.

19 C. It shall be unlawful for any person to advertise for sale, sell, or use any device designed primarily 20 for the purpose of resetting the odometer or similar device of a motor vehicle in any manner.

21 D. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the following:

22 1. The changing of odometer or similar device readings registered in the course of predelivery testing
23 of any motor vehicle by its manufacturer prior to its delivery to a dealer.

24 2. Any necessary repair or replacement of an odometer or similar device, provided that the repaired
25 or replaced odometer or similar device is forthwith set at a reading determined by the reading on the 26 device immediately prior to repair or replacement plus a bona fide estimate of the use of the vehicle
27 sustained between the period when the device ceased to accurately record that use and the time of repair
28 or replacement. Compliance with the requirements of 49 USC § 32704 of the Federal Odometer Act in 29 the service, repair, or replacement of an odometer shall be deemed compliance with this subdivision.

30 3. Passenger vehicles having a capacity in excess of fifteen persons.

31 4. Trucks having a net weight in excess of 10,000 pounds.

32 E. Any person convicted of a violation of the provisions of subsections A through D of this section
33 shall, for a first offense, be fined not more than $10,000 and sentenced to a term of confinement in jail
34 for not more than twelve months, either or both. Any person convicted of a subsequent offense under 35 this section shall be fined not more than $50,000 and sentenced to a term of confinement in a state
36 correctional facility for not less than one year nor more than five years, either or both, for each offense
37 if the offense is committed with the intent thereby to defraud another. Each violation of this section 38 shall constitute a separate offense.

39 F. Any person who with intent to defraud violates subsection A or B of this section shall be liable in 40 a civil action in an amount equal to three times the amount of actual damages sustained or $1,500
41 $3,000, whichever is greater. In the case of a successful action to enforce the foregoing liability, the 42 costs of the action, together with reasonable attorney fees as determined by the court, shall be assessed
43 against the person committing the violation. An action under this subsection shall be brought within two 44 years from the date on which liability arises. For the purpose of this subsection, liability arises when the 45 injured party discovers, or with due diligence should have discovered, the violation.
