4. Title: Trauma-informed sexual assault investigative training

5. Summary:

The proposed legislation would require the Department of Criminal Justice Services to develop a curriculum for multidisciplinary training on trauma-informed sexual assault investigation. The training curriculum would be for law-enforcement personnel, campus police department personnel, attorneys for the Commonwealth, Title IX coordinators and investigators, victim advocates, forensic nurses, and related investigatory personnel.

6. Budget Amendment Necessary: No.

7. Fiscal Impact Estimates: Final. See Item 8 below.

8. Fiscal Implications:

The proposed legislation would require DCJS to provide a curriculum for trauma-informed sexual assault investigations. The Governor included funding in the introduced budget for an additional position in DCJS for training and the budget amendments by both houses retained that funding. As a result, DCJS should be able to implement the requirements of this legislation without additional funding.

10. Technical Amendment Necessary: None.

11. Other Comments: None.
