Legislation which would have required insurers offering Medicare supplement policies to offer policies to individuals under age 65 and disabled was considered by the 2015 General Assembly. Senate Bill 760 (2015), which failed to pass, was referred to Health Insurance Reform Commission (HIRC) for review. The HIRC asked the State Corporation Commission Bureau of Insurance (Bureau) to survey the 32 insurers offering Medicare Supplement policies in Virginia to persons age 65 or older to determine the effect of such legislation on their willingness to continue offering such policies and remain involved in the Medicare Supplement market if legislation were enacted that required them to also offer Medicare Supplement policies to eligible persons under age 65. The 30 carriers that responded to the survey indicated that they would stay in the market, and write insurance for the under age 65 and disabled population, but at costs estimated from one and one half to five times higher than for individuals aged 65 or greater. The HIRC shared its findings with the patron of SB 760 and took no further action on the measure.
