Background

Under current law, localities are authorized to impose a local vehicle license fee or tax on motor vehicles, trailers, and semitrailers normally garaged, stored, or parked in the locality at a rate not to exceed the annual or one-year fee imposed by the Commonwealth on such motor vehicle, trailer, or semitrailer. Local licenses may be issued free of charge to vehicles powered by clean special fuels or owned by police officers, former police officers, and members of rescue squads and fire departments. Localities may also provide a 50 percent reduction in the license fee for any vehicle owned or leased by a person who is 65 years old or older.

The Cities of Alexandria, Fairfax, and Falls Church, and the Counties of Arlington and Fairfax are authorized to impose an additional annual vehicle license fee on passenger cars not used for the transportation of passengers for compensation of no more than five dollars. The total local license fee on such vehicle may not exceed 25 dollars. These localities may also impose an additional annual vehicle license fee on motor vehicles, trailers, and semitrailers not designed and used for the transportation of passengers of no more than five dollars. Any funds in excess to those allowed for the local vehicle license fee or tax must be allocated to the Northern Virginia Transportation Commission as a credit to the locality for its share of any operating deficit assigned to the locality by the Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority.

Any county treasurer, or comparable officer, is authorized to enter into a reciprocal agreement with the treasurer of a town wholly or partially within such county to allow the town treasurer, or comparable officer, to collect current, non-delinquent local vehicle license fees or taxes owed to the county or for the county treasurer to collect current, non-delinquent local vehicle license fees or taxes owed to the town. The agreement must be approved by the respective local governing bodies.
