Federal Standard Deduction

On December 22, 2017, the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act (Public Law 115-97) was signed into law. This federal tax reform legislation substantially changes the federal income taxation of individuals and businesses. These changes include substantially increasing the federal standard deduction beginning with Taxable Year 2018 as follows:

- From $12,700 for married taxpayers filing jointly to $24,000;
- From $9,350 for heads of household to $18,000; and
- From $6,350 for single taxpayers and married taxpayers filing separately to $12,000.

In addition, beginning with Taxable Year 2019, these amounts have been indexed for inflation based on chained CPI-U. Therefore, for Taxable Year 2022, the amount of the federal standard deduction, after indexing, is as follows:

- $25,900 for married taxpayers filing jointly;
- $19,400 for heads of household; and
- $12,950 for single taxpayers and married taxpayers filing separately.

Like most other individual provisions of the TCJA, the increase in the amount of the federal standard deduction is currently scheduled to sunset after December 31, 2025, and revert to the amounts in the law prior to passage of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act. Additional federal legislation would be required to make such increase effective beyond Taxable Year 2025.

Virginia's Standard Deduction

Under current law, taxpayers that do not itemize their deductions for federal purposes are permitted to claim a standard deduction on their Virginia income tax returns. During the 2019 Session, the General Assembly enacted legislation that increased the amounts of Virginia's standard deduction for Taxable Year 2019 through Taxable Year 2025.

The standard deduction amounts are $4,500 for single individuals and $9,000 for married couples. Virginia’s standard deduction amounts have changed over the years. The history of such changes from Taxable Year 1987 to the present is shown below:

Year	Virginia Standard Deduction for Single Taxpayers	Virginia Standard Deduction for Married Taxpayers
1987	$2,000	$2,000
1988	$2,700	$2,700
1989-2004	$3,000	$5,000
2005-2018	$3,000	$6,000
2019-present	$4,500	$9,000

Prior to 1987, the Virginia standard deduction was not a flat amount. Instead, for Taxable Year 1986 for example, the Virginia standard deduction was 15 percent of federal adjusted gross income with a $1,300 minimum and a $2,000 maximum.

For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2026, the Virginia standard deduction is scheduled to revert to its pre-2019 form. Therefore, the Virginia standard deduction will be $3,000 for single filers and to $6,000 for married couples. In addition, the amounts of the Virginia standard deduction are not currently indexed for inflation.

Proposed Legislation

This bill would increase the Virginia standard deduction from $4,500 to $9,000 for single individuals and married taxpayers filing separately, and from $9,000 to $18,000 for married persons filing joint returns.

This bill would be effective for taxable years beginning on and after January 1, 2022.

Similar Legislation

Senate Bill 560 is identical to this bill.

Senate Bill 7 would change Virginia’s standard deduction to an amount equivalent to the federal standard deduction.

Senate Bill 11 is substantially similar to this bill except that after Taxable Year 2025, the Virginia standard deduction would revert to the amounts prior to 2019.

House Bill 1343 would increase the standard deduction to $6,000 for single individuals and $12,000 for married persons filing jointly, and would index such amounts annually for inflation.
