Pursuant to § 30-19.1:4, fiscal impact statements prepared by the Virginia Criminal Sentencing Commission only include the estimated increase in operating costs associated with additional state-responsible (prison) beds and do not reflect any other costs or savings that may be associated with the proposed legislation.

Summary of Proposed Legislation:

The proposal adds § 18.2-59.1 to the Code of Virginia to create the crime of sexual extortion. Under the proposed § 18.2-59.1, it would be a Class 5 felony for any person to maliciously disseminate or sell or maliciously threaten to disseminate or sell, in writing, a videographic or still image that depicts the complaining witness, or a member of his or her family or household, in the nude or in a state of undress with the intent to cause the complaining witness to engage in sexual intercourse, etc., who thereby engages in sexual intercourse, etc., with the complaining witness. Any adult who violates the proposed section with a person under the age of 18 would be guilty of a felony punishable by imprisonment of 1 to 20 years.

Analysis:

Existing data do not contain sufficient detail to determine the number of cases that would be affected by the proposal. However, affected offenders may be sentenced similarly to individuals convicted under current provisions.

The proposed offense for sexual extortion would be a Class 5 felony. During FY2021 and FY2022, Circuit Court Case Management System (CMS) data indicate that, among defendants convicted of a completed Class 5 felony sex offense as the primary (or most serious) offense, 64.2% received a state-responsible (prison) term. The median prison sentence was 3.0 years. Another 26.3% of the defendants received a local-responsible (jail) term for which the median sentence was 6.0 months. The remaining 9.5% of defendants did not receive an active term of incarceration to serve after sentencing.

The proposal also includes a felony punishable by 1 to 20 years for sexual extortion of a minor. Sentencing Guidelines data for FY2021 and FY2022 reveal that defendants convicted of aggravated sexual battery under §§ 18.2-67.3(A,1) or § 18.2-67.3(A,4,a), also punishable by 1 to 20 years, received a state prison term in the majority (84.5%) of cases. For those defendants given a prison term, the median sentence was 5.0 years.

Impact of Proposed Legislation:

State adult correctional facilities. By establishing two new felony offenses, the proposal may result in additional felony convictions and increase the future state-responsible (prison) bed space needs of the Commonwealth. Existing databases do not provide sufficient detail to estimate the number of new felony convictions likely to result from enactment of the proposal; therefore, the magnitude of the impact on prison beds cannot be quantified.

Local adult correctional facilities. Similarly, the proposal may also increase the local-responsible (jail) bed space needs of the Commonwealth; however, the magnitude of the impact cannot be determined.

Adult community corrections programs. Because the proposal could result in felony convictions and subsequent supervision requirements for an additional number of offenders, the proposal may increase the need for adult community corrections resources. Since the number of cases that may be affected cannot be determined, the potential impact on community corrections resources cannot be quantified.

Virginia's Sentencing Guidelines. As new felonies, convictions under the proposed § 18.2-59.1 would not be covered by the Sentencing Guidelines. Such convictions, however, could augment the Guidelines recommendation (as additional offenses) if the most serious offense at sentencing is covered by the Guidelines. No adjustment to the Guidelines is necessary under the proposal.

Juvenile direct care. According to the Department of Juvenile Justice, the impact of the proposal on direct care (juvenile correctional center or an alternative commitment placement) bed space needs cannot be determined.

Juvenile detention facilities. The Department of Juvenile Justice reports that the proposal's impact on the bed space needs of juvenile detention facilities cannot be determined.

Pursuant to § 30-19.1:4, the estimated amount of the necessary appropriation cannot be determined for periods of imprisonment in state adult correctional facilities; therefore, Chapter 2 of the Acts of Assembly of 2022, Special Session I, requires the Virginia Criminal Sentencing Commission to assign a minimum fiscal impact of $50,000.

Pursuant to § 30-19.1:4, the estimated amount of the necessary appropriation cannot be determined for periods of commitment to the custody of the Department of Juvenile Justice.
